LBJ Asks End To Cold War

NATO Directs Plea For Peace To Soviet Union

Kremlin Warned Of Awesome U.S. Nuclear Strength

PARIS (AP) — The Atlantic alliance appealed Tuesday for a true easing of East-West tensions, expressing hope the Soviet Union will meet the Western powers half way in the quest for peace.

Shortly before winding up their winter session, the alliance ministers heard from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara what might happen should the Kremlin choose the alternative to peace.

McNamara warned Moscow that the U.S. atomic arsenal is now of such awesome dimensions that the United States could absorb a full-scale surprise nuclear attack and still smash the Soviet Union.

A communique winding up a North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) meeting promised to build up military strength of the alliance while seeking some sort of accommodation with the Soviet Union.

Strength In Unity

The ministers reminded their peoples that NATO unity and strength had been a large factor in the absence of any major crisis since the near-conflict over Cuba a year ago.

They added: "At the same time the ministers emphasized the importance not only of seeking agreement on limited measures which would help to reduce tension but of achieving a genuine and fundamental improvement in East-West relations.

"They expressed the hope that Soviet policy would not limit the possibilities of making progress in this direction and of reaching solutions for the problems which are the real causes of tension in the world, in particular those of Berlin and Germany."

NATO Secretary-General Dirk U. Stikker told a news conference there was "general recognition that a change has taken place in the atmosphere of world affairs" and this will require further contacts with the Soviet Union."

Ground Troops Needed

McNamara, in an hour-long statement on the Western defense position, also said Allied power in the conventional field is strong enough to blunt almost any move by Soviet ground forces in Central Europe without immediate recourse to nuclear weapons.

But McNamara added the West still needs more ground troops to give the West flexibility in coping with any Communist move. He cited Berlin and the northern and southern flanks of Europe as sectors where the Russians might be tempted into a limited offensive in the belief they might be able to pull it off before the West could react.

Johnson Order Gives Probers Baker Tax File

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson Tuesday night signed an order making available to Senate investigators the income tax file on Robert G. (Bobby) Baker.

The President acted in accordance with a request from the Senate Rules Committee which is investigating the business affairs of Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary.

Such executive orders generally are signed as a matter of routine by presidents when congressional investigators ask to see tax returns in connection with their inquiries.

The President's order came after the rules committee opened public hearings Tuesday on Baker's outside business interests. The first witness was Mrs. Gertrude C. Novak, the widow of one of Baker's former business partners.

The blonde Mrs. Novak, pert in an upswept hairdo and black silk suit, scarcely required the services of her attorney in her complicated testimony.

She said her association with Baker in the Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md., caused her so much grief that she was at one time ready to take as much as a $50,000 loss on the venture.

The motel was bought by another Baker enterprise, the Serv-U Vending Machine Company. Mrs. Novak testified that she and her husband had $63,789 invested in the motel. She said she has not yet received "a penny" although she finally accepted, at Baker's insistence, a non-negotiable note. She said she still holds it.

She and her husband split $54,000 in profits on the sale of stock in the Mortgage Guarantee Insurance Co. with Baker, Mrs. Novak said, although Baker himself invested no money in the deal. She said she "couldn't say" whether Baker had any inside information about the stock. At another point she said she "would assume" he had some information beyond what could be obtained from closely following the stock market and reading newspapers.

Back From Captivity

Sue Rifkin, 44, tearfully embraces her husband, Bernard, 52, at La Paz, Bolivia, yesterday at a reunion after he was freed from imprisonment for 10 days as a hostage of Communist-led tin miners. Their son, Paul, is the happy man at right. Rifkin, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in Bolivia as a labor-management relations adviser in the U. S. foreign service. He and 18 others, including three other Americans, were flown to La Paz from Oruro, near where they were held.

Released Hostages, Families Reunited In Bolivian Capital

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Bear hugs and happy tears marked a reunion of relatives and friends here Tuesday with four tired, bearded Americans newly freed after 10 days imprisonment as hostages of Communist-led tin miners.

"Daddy!" cried the two young daughters of Michael A. Kristula, 41, and leaped into his arms. His wife, Harriet, 39, said, "We are going home now and be a family and spend Christmas together."

Colombian-born Mariela Martin, 25, smiled and wept as her husband, Thomas M. Martin Jr., 27, hugged and kissed her.

Dark glasses hid the tears in the eyes of Sue Rifkin, 44, as she and her husband, Bernard Rifkin, 52, embraced.

Robert Fergerstrom, 26, the only bachelor in the group, said: "Boy, I'm going home and take a hot bath and shave."

President Johnson was reported sending a plane to Bolivia to return the group to the United States for Christmas.

Bolivia's chief U.N. delegate, Jaime Caballero Tamayo, said in New York Johnson had told him of this arrangement after speaking before the U.S. General Assembly.

The four were flown to La Paz from Oruro, an Andean plateau town 135 miles south of the capital.

It was there they had spent the night after being released with 15 other captives of miners in the Catavi-Siglo Veinte district under an agreement between President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government and his dissident vice president, Juan Lechin, boss of the Mine Workers Federation.

Kristula, a former Chicagoan, and Martin, from the Bronx, New York, are U.S. Information Agency officers. Rifkin, from Brooklyn, is a labor adviser for the U.S. Agency for International Development. Fergerstrom, from Honolulu, is a Peace Corps volunteer.

They were seized by the miners along with 13 Bolivians, a Dutchman and a German Dec. 6 in an effort to force the government to free two Communist union leaders—Federico Escobar and Irineo Pimentel — jailed of charges of anarchy, murder and embezzlement.

It was a harrowing confinement.

Rifkin said the first night was the worst.

"They put guns in our backs and set off dynamite," he said.

Fergerstrom agreed.

"That first night was frightening as hell," he said.

Martin said the miners had tried all sorts of scare tactics in an effort to force them to ask for the release of Pimentel and Escobar, "but not one of us gave in."

The government went part way to meet two demands of the miners. It pulled back troops massed on a standby basis near the miners' stronghold and, though maintaining the charges against Escobar and Pimentel, agreed to release them on bail pending trial.

Ike Vacations; Gun Toter Held

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived by train Tuesday for their annual winter vacation in the Southern California desert.

About an hour before their private car rolled to a halt, guards arrested a sleeping man with a packaged pistol. Officers said the incident bore no apparent relation to the Eisenhowers' visit, and they were not immediately informed of it.

The couple plans to stay in a cottage on grounds of the El Dorado Country Club in Palm Desert until next May. The former president will take time out to be grand marshal in the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, with Mamie at his side.

Otherwise, he is expected to concentrate on golf and writing.

A special Santa Fe Railway agent said the man arrested identified himself as Persell Jones, 46, a transient who said he had no home but came originally from New Jersey.

Anti-Pollution Bill Signed By Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson signed into law Tuesday a bill authorizing $95 million in federal funds for the battle against air pollution which he called a "serious and growing hazard."

The President said an estimated 6,000 U.S. communities need the type of assistance the bill provides in combatting air pollution.

Chimp Kidneys Function Well For Dock Worker

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A chimpanzee's kidneys were transplanted into the body of a 43-year-old longshoreman, Tulane University announced Tuesday. They have functioned well for six weeks.

"I feel right now like a person who hasn't been sick a day in his life," Jefferson Davis, a New Orleans Negro, told a news conference.

Davis, a father of four, said he has had kidney trouble since 1957.

Dr. Keith Reemtsma, spokesman for a 12-member team of Tulane physicians, said the historic surgery — performed to save Davis' life—is believed to be the longest successful animal-to-human kidney transplant.

Doctors cannot tell with certainty how long the organ will continue to function, Dr. Reemtsma added.

Davis, who appeared in good spirits, appeared briefly before newsmen and was asked how he felt about having an animal's kidneys in his body.

"I had no choice," he said. "The doctors told me I couldn't live with what I got. A monkey's kidney don't bother me in anyway. All I wanted to do was survive."

Doctors said Davis, who is now in good health but will not be able to return to his dock worker's job, has been in Charity Hospital since January. He is expected to go home this week.

Senate Group Rescinds Aid Cut, Credit Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee rescinded nearly $500 million of a deep House foreign aid cut Tuesday and knocked out a credit ban that could block sales of U.S. products to Communist nations.

The committee also returned to the bill all of a $95-million House reduction in funds for the Alliance for Progress and put back in $30,900,000 of $36,050,000 cut from the budget for United Nations activities.

This made the Alliance total for development loans and grants in Latin America $525 million and the U.N. total $130,900,000.

The committee action was a strong showing of support for President Johnson who had condemned the House reductions. Over-all, the Senate subcommittee bill will carry $3,299,500,000 for new foreign aid expenditures, compared with $2,801,700,000 voted by the House.

Left in was a House reappropriation of $209 million in additional funds that were unspent last year, giving the administration a total of $3,508,500 for all foreign assistance.

A top limit of $3.6 billion in foreign aid expenditures had been authorized by both House and Senate in an earlier bill.

The House passage of the $2.8 billions foreign aid money bill Monday included a ban on using Export-Import Bank guarantees of private loans for selling U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union. It developed Tuesday that the wording of the ban was so broad that it would extend to all similar bank credit arrangements for purchases of any U.S. products by a Communist nation.

U.S. 'Chutists Claim Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thirteen Air Force and Army parachutists claimed a new world record Tuesday after a mass jump from 43,500 feet near El Centro, Calif.

Each jumped 41,250 feet—almost eight miles — in a free fall, reaching speeds up to 250 miles an hour before their 'chutes opened automatically at 2,250 feet.

The record was set in 1961 by a nine-man Russian team, jumping from 36,650 feet.

The temperature was 67 degrees below zero when the veteran parachutists jumped Monday, two by two, from a C130 Hercules cargo plane at 7:30 a.m.

Maneuvering in spreadeagle fashion during their three-minute drop, they all landed within 200 yards of a target.

JFK Coin Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a bill Tuesday to place President John F. Kennedy's likeness on half dollars minted beginning Jan. 1. The vote, sending the bill on to the Senate, was 352-6.

Brother Turned In Sinatra Kidnaper

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John William Irwin, one of three men arrested on suspicion of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr., was turned over to the FBI by his brother, the brother said Tuesday.

James Irwin, 41, told newsmen by phone from his home at Imperial Beach, Calif., that his brother knew he was going to be turned in and did not object.

John Irwin, 42, was arrested last Friday morning in front of James' home, near San Diego. He was the first of the three to be taken into custody.

The other two, Joseph Clyde Amsler and Barry Worthington Keenan, both 23, were arrested Friday night and Saturday morning, in the Los Angeles area.

Red Party's Conviction Overturned

Court Of Appeals Upsets Verdict In Registration Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party of the United States won a round Tuesday in its 13-year-old fight against registering as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia overturned a lower court verdict that the party had wilfully refused to register under terms of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

The three-judge appellate court ruled unanimously that the government had failed to prove that there was a volunteer available who would step forward and register for the party.

$120,000 Fine Imposed

The decision came a year to the day after a federal court jury convicted the party and Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff dealt out the maximum penalty —a $120,000 fine, or $10,000 on each of the 12 counts of the indictment.

Before the criminal indictment was returned, the party had challenged constitutionality of the 1950 law. The Supreme Court declared the law constitutional in June 1961.

A Justice Department spokesman said no decision would be made on the next course of government action until the court ruling has been studied.

Presumably, the government will either appeal the case to the Supreme Court or ask the appeals court for a rehearing. The other alternatives are to drop the case or seek a new trial.

Judge In Error

Attorneys for the Communist party argued throughout the trial that no officer of the party could register for it without incriminating himself.

Judge Holtzoff told the jury to disregard the self-incrimination plea. The appeals court said this was a mistake.

The government said the officers had a duty to register for the party and could not claim the protection of the Fifth Amendment ban on possible self incrimination to avoid this duty.

Even if they could support such a claim, the government argued, this did not relieve the party of its duty to register by finding someone else to sign the forms on its behalf.

Democrat Wins Texas Election

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat J. J. (Jake) Pickle was the apparent winner over Republican Jim Dobbs in a special congressionsl runoff election Tuesday, the Austin American-Statesman said.

Reports from 8 of the 10 counties of the 10th district, 6 complete, gave Pickle 26,667 and Dobbs 12,818.

Pickle, 49, a personal friend of President Johnson, surged into the lead from the start and ever faltered. At times he approached the 2-1 margin of victory he predicted.

Several counties, including the President's home county of Blanco, reversed their November decisions to favor Pickle over Dobbs.

Reds Will Open Wall In Berlin For Christmas

BERLIN (AP)—The Red wall will open Friday for West Berliners for the first time in more than two years. Then begins a flood of an estimated 700,000 people into the Communist zone to visit their relatives for Christmas.

The visits are made possible by an agreement signed Tuesday between representatives of the West Berlin city government and the Communist regime of East Germany.

While the politicians weighed the possible future implications of the first such deal over the wall, the Berliners in both parts of the city were jubilant.

For the past two Christmas seasons they have been kept apart. Families have been divided. While foreigners and West Germans could pass through the wall, the Berliners could not.

Now, for the limited period until Jan. 5, there is one-way traffic. The East Berliners have to content themselves with being the hosts to their relatives from the West.

Each permit will be valid only until midnight of a particular day, but many West Berliners are likely to get more than one permit.

"At last! At last!" squealed blonde Liselotte Schulz, a typist. "I will see my mother, my sister and my aunt."

As people scrambled for newspaper extras, a fruit seller caught the spirit of the occasion. "Buy bananas," he shouted. "You can take them to your relatives in the East."

Fruit is scarce in East Germany.

An elderly man, Joachim Lindman, smiled and said: "There are grandchildren over there I haven't seen yet. This is going to be a very happy Christmas for me."

In East Berlin there was similar joy. Three out of five people questioned on a street corner said they were joyfully awaiting relatives.

American Killed Climbing Everest

WASHINGTON (AP) — David C. Wyatt, 20, of Roseburg, Ore., died from a fall while climbing Mt. Everest Dec. 4 and was buried at the scene.

This was reported by State Department authorities Tuesday on the basis of a message from the U.S. Embassy in Katmandu, Nepal.

Johnson Plea Wins Russian Bloc Acclaim

President Urges Crusade Against Hunger, Disease

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — President Johnson appealed to diplomats of the world Tuesday to end the cold war—"once and for all." But he held out no hope that this could be quickly achieved.

Stepping before representatives of 113 countries in the towering General Assembly hall of the United Nations, Johnson departed once from his prepared address — to emphasize the slow pace of progress toward peace.

"Peace is a journey of a thousand miles," Johnson remarked, "and it must be taken one step at a time."

The Soviet delegate, Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, was among the first to respond favorably to the address by the new American president. Fedorenko told newsmen "I personally consider this a positive approach to world problems."

Pledges To Keep Peace

At a reception after the address, Johnson heard similar sentiments directly from Fedorenko, who later reported that the President replied with words of "reciprocity, mutual understanding and sympathy."

Another Soviet bloc delegate, Bohdan Lewandowski of Poland, termed it "a very good speech, especially as it dealt with ending the cold war."

Other reaction was similarly favorable.

Johnson, making his first appearance outside Washington, delivered one paramount pledge:

"If there is one commitment more than any other that I would like to leave with you today, it is my unswerving commitment to the keeping and to the strengthening of the peace."

Johnson's audience, admitted to the great blue and gold hall through cordons of watchful security guards, interrupted once with applause when he stated that the United States "more than ever" supports the United Nations as the best available instrument to promote peace and international well-being."

45-Second Ovation

Speaking slowly and in a soft Texas drawl, Johnson gave secondary emphasis to a global crusade "to lift from all people everywhere the blight of disease and poverty and illiteracy."

The international gathering gave Johnson a 45-second standing ovation when he finished. Representatives of the Soviet Union joined in the applause. Delegates from Albania and Cuba stood with the rest, but did not applaud.

Mrs. Johnson and members of Congress who flew to New York with Johnson listened from seats in a special section at the side of the hall.

Referring to the Nov. 22 assassination of President John F. Kennedy, who spoke from the same rostrum on Sept. 20, Johnson declared:

"I have come here today to make it unmistakably clear that the assassin's bullet which took his life did not alter this nation's purpose."

5,000 Police On LBJ Route

NEW YORK (AP) — Police outnumbered spectators in parts of midtown Manhattan Tuesday, as a massive security cordon was thrown around President Johnson for his visit to the United Nations.

Some 5,000 police were deployed. At some points along the President's route there was a policeman every two or three feet.

Streets were cleared, sidewalks restricted, rooftops policed, construction sites inspected and skyscraper windows closed to prevent any such tragedy as befell President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22. Helicopters even policed the air space above the presidential motorcade.

Johnson and his wife traveled in a closed sedan from Idlewild Airport to the U.N. and later to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for a luncheon with U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

It was Johnson's second visit to New York since he became President. Similar tight security prevailed Dec. 8 when the new chief executive came for the funeral of former U.S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Factory Workers' Pay Hits Record High Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both hourly and weekly earnings of factory workers climbed to record levels in November, the Labor Department reported.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said average hourly earnings of factory production workers increased by 2 cents to $2.49, from October to November. This was 8 cents above November 1962.

As a result of the hourly increase, the bureau said weekly earnings also rose to a new peak at $101.09. This was 56 cents above October and $3.73 over the same month a year ago.

The bureau reported the number of workers on nonfarm payrolls dropped by 100,000 during the month to 58.3 million. This still was 1.5 million higher than November 1962.

The largest job reductions during November were in construction and in manufacturing, both drops being about normal for the time of year.

Earlier the bureau had reported that unemployment rose by 500,000 during November to 3.9 million. This was somewhat more than seasonal. The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment was 5.9 per cent in November, up from 5.5 per cent in October.

Doctors cannot tell with certainty how long the organ will continue to function, Dr. Reemtsma added.

Davis, who appeared in good spirits, appeared briefly before newsmen and was asked how he felt about having an animal's kidneys in his body.

"I had no choice," he said. "The doctors told me I couldn't live with what I got. A monkey's kidney don't bother me in anyway. All I wanted to do was survive."

Doctors said Davis, who is now in good health but will not be able to return to his dock worker's job, has been in Charity Hospital since January. He is expected to go home this week.

Brother Turned In Sinatra Kidnaper

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John William Irwin, one of three men arrested on suspicion of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr., was turned over to the FBI by his brother, the brother said Tuesday.

James Irwin, 41, told newsmen by phone from his home at Imperial Beach, Calif., that his brother knew he was going to be turned in and did not object.

John Irwin, 42, was arrested last Friday morning in front of James' home, near San Diego. He was the first of the three to be taken into custody.

The other two, Joseph Clyde Amsler and Barry Worthington Keenan, both 23, were arrested Friday night and Saturday morning, in the Los Angeles area.

Senate Group Rescinds Aid Cut, Credit Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee rescinded nearly $500 million of a deep House foreign aid cut Tuesday and knocked out a credit ban that could block sales of U.S. products to Communist nations.

The committee also returned to the bill all of a $95-million House reduction in funds for the Alliance for Progress and put back in $30,900,000 of $36,050,000 cut from the budget for United Nations activities.

This made the Alliance total for development loans and grants in Latin America $525 million and the U.N. total $130,900,000.

The committee action was a strong showing of support for President Johnson who had condemned the House reductions. Over-all, the Senate subcommittee bill will carry $3,299,500,000 for new foreign aid expenditures, compared with $2,801,700,000 voted by the House.

Left in was a House reappropriation of $209 million in additional funds that were unspent last year, giving the administration a total of $3,508,500 for all foreign assistance.

A top limit of $3.6 billion in foreign aid expenditures had been authorized by both House and Senate in an earlier bill.

The House passage of the $2.8 billions foreign aid money bill Monday included a ban on using Export-Import Bank guarantees of private loans for selling U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union. It developed Tuesday that the wording of the ban was so broad that it would extend to all similar bank credit arrangements for purchases of any U.S. products by a Communist nation.

U.S. 'Chutists Claim Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thirteen Air Force and Army parachutists claimed a new world record Tuesday after a mass jump from 43,500 feet near El Centro, Calif.

Each jumped 41,250 feet—almost eight miles — in a free fall, reaching speeds up to 250 miles an hour before their 'chutes opened automatically at 2,250 feet.

The record was set in 1961 by a nine-man Russian team, jumping from 36,650 feet.

The temperature was 67 degrees below zero when the veteran parachutists jumped Monday, two by two, from a C130 Hercules cargo plane at 7:30 a.m.

Maneuvering in spreadeagle fashion during their three-minute drop, they all landed within 200 yards of a target.

JFK Coin Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a bill Tuesday to place President John F. Kennedy's likeness on half dollars minted beginning Jan. 1. The vote, sending the bill on to the Senate, was 352-6.

Red Party's Conviction Overturned

Court Of Appeals Upsets Verdict In Registration Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party of the United States won a round Tuesday in its 13-year-old fight against registering as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia overturned a lower court verdict that the party had wilfully refused to register under terms of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

The three-judge appellate court ruled unanimously that the government had failed to prove that there was a volunteer available who would step forward and register for the party.

$120,000 Fine Imposed

The decision came a year to the day after a federal court jury convicted the party and Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff dealt out the maximum penalty —a $120,000 fine, or $10,000 on each of the 12 counts of the indictment.

Before the criminal indictment was returned, the party had challenged constitutionality of the 1950 law. The Supreme Court declared the law constitutional in June 1961.

A Justice Department spokesman said no decision would be made on the next course of government action until the court ruling has been studied.

Presumably, the government will either appeal the case to the Supreme Court or ask the appeals court for a rehearing. The other alternatives are to drop the case or seek a new trial.

Judge In Error

Attorneys for the Communist party argued throughout the trial that no officer of the party could register for it without incriminating himself.

Judge Holtzoff told the jury to disregard the self-incrimination plea. The appeals court said this was a mistake.

The government said the officers had a duty to register for the party and could not claim the protection of the Fifth Amendment ban on possible self incrimination to avoid this duty.

Even if they could support such a claim, the government argued, this did not relieve the party of its duty to register by finding someone else to sign the forms on its behalf.

Democrat Wins Texas Election

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat J. J. (Jake) Pickle was the apparent winner over Republican Jim Dobbs in a special congressionsl runoff election Tuesday, the Austin American-Statesman said.

Reports from 8 of the 10 counties of the 10th district, 6 complete, gave Pickle 26,667 and Dobbs 12,818.

Pickle, 49, a personal friend of President Johnson, surged into the lead from the start and ever faltered. At times he approached the 2-1 margin of victory he predicted.

Several counties, including the President's home county of Blanco, reversed their November decisions to favor Pickle over Dobbs.

Reds Will Open Wall In Berlin For Christmas

BERLIN (AP)—The Red wall will open Friday for West Berliners for the first time in more than two years. Then begins a flood of an estimated 700,000 people into the Communist zone to visit their relatives for Christmas.

The visits are made possible by an agreement signed Tuesday between representatives of the West Berlin city government and the Communist regime of East Germany.

While the politicians weighed the possible future implications of the first such deal over the wall, the Berliners in both parts of the city were jubilant.

For the past two Christmas seasons they have been kept apart. Families have been divided. While foreigners and West Germans could pass through the wall, the Berliners could not.

Now, for the limited period until Jan. 5, there is one-way traffic. The East Berliners have to content themselves with being the hosts to their relatives from the West.

Each permit will be valid only until midnight of a particular day, but many West Berliners are likely to get more than one permit.

"At last! At last!" squealed blonde Liselotte Schulz, a typist. "I will see my mother, my sister and my aunt."

As people scrambled for newspaper extras, a fruit seller caught the spirit of the occasion. "Buy bananas," he shouted. "You can take them to your relatives in the East."

Fruit is scarce in East Germany.

An elderly man, Joachim Lindman, smiled and said: "There are grandchildren over there I haven't seen yet. This is going to be a very happy Christmas for me."

In East Berlin there was similar joy. Three out of five people questioned on a street corner said they were joyfully awaiting relatives.

American Killed Climbing Everest

WASHINGTON (AP) — David C. Wyatt, 20, of Roseburg, Ore., died from a fall while climbing Mt. Everest Dec. 4 and was buried at the scene.

This was reported by State Department authorities Tuesday on the basis of a message from the U.S. Embassy in Katmandu, Nepal.

Factory Workers' Pay Hits Record High Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both hourly and weekly earnings of factory workers climbed to record levels in November, the Labor Department reported.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said average hourly earnings of factory production workers increased by 2 cents to $2.49, from October to November. This was 8 cents above November 1962.

As a result of the hourly increase, the bureau said weekly earnings also rose to a new peak at $101.09. This was 56 cents above October and $3.73 over the same month a year ago.

The bureau reported the number of workers on nonfarm payrolls dropped by 100,000 during the month to 58.3 million. This still was 1.5 million higher than November 1962.

The largest job reductions during November were in construction and in manufacturing, both drops being about normal for the time of year.

Earlier the bureau had reported that unemployment rose by 500,000 during November to 3.9 million. This was somewhat more than seasonal. The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment was 5.9 per cent in November, up from 5.5 per cent in October.

Johnson Plea Wins Russian Bloc Acclaim

President Urges Crusade Against Hunger, Disease

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — President Johnson appealed to diplomats of the world Tuesday to end the cold war—"once and for all." But he held out no hope that this could be quickly achieved.

Stepping before representatives of 113 countries in the towering General Assembly hall of the United Nations, Johnson departed once from his prepared address — to emphasize the slow pace of progress toward peace.

"Peace is a journey of a thousand miles," Johnson remarked, "and it must be taken one step at a time."

The Soviet delegate, Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, was among the first to respond favorably to the address by the new American president. Fedorenko told newsmen "I personally consider this a positive approach to world problems."

Pledges To Keep Peace

At a reception after the address, Johnson heard similar sentiments directly from Fedorenko, who later reported that the President replied with words of "reciprocity, mutual understanding and sympathy."

Another Soviet bloc delegate, Bohdan Lewandowski of Poland, termed it "a very good speech, especially as it dealt with ending the cold war."

Other reaction was similarly favorable.

Johnson, making his first appearance outside Washington, delivered one paramount pledge:

"If there is one commitment more than any other that I would like to leave with you today, it is my unswerving commitment to the keeping and to the strengthening of the peace."

Johnson's audience, admitted to the great blue and gold hall through cordons of watchful security guards, interrupted once with applause when he stated that the United States "more than ever" supports the United Nations as the best available instrument to promote peace and international well-being."

45-Second Ovation

Speaking slowly and in a soft Texas drawl, Johnson gave secondary emphasis to a global crusade "to lift from all people everywhere the blight of disease and poverty and illiteracy."

The international gathering gave Johnson a 45-second standing ovation when he finished. Representatives of the Soviet Union joined in the applause. Delegates from Albania and Cuba stood with the rest, but did not applaud.

Mrs. Johnson and members of Congress who flew to New York with Johnson listened from seats in a special section at the side of the hall.

Referring to the Nov. 22 assassination of President John F. Kennedy, who spoke from the same rostrum on Sept. 20, Johnson declared:

"I have come here today to make it unmistakably clear that the assassin's bullet which took his life did not alter this nation's purpose."

5,000 Police On LBJ Route

NEW YORK (AP) — Police out numbered spectators in parts of midtown Manhattan Tuesday, as a massive security cordon was thrown around President Johnson for his visit to the United Nations.

Some 5,000 police were deployed. At some points along the President's route there was a policeman every two or three feet.

Streets were cleared, sidewalks restricted, rooftops policed, construction sites inspected and skyscraper windows closed to prevent any such tragedy as befell President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22. Helicopters even policed the air space above the presidential motorcade.

Johnson and his wife traveled in a closed sedan from Idlewild Airport to the U.N. and later to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for a luncheon with U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

It was Johnson's second visit to New York since he became President. Similar tight security prevailed Dec. 8 when the new chief executive came for the funeral of former U.S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Doctors Defer Operation That Will Blind Tot

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) —Doctors bowed to the urgings of two-year-old Vicki Wray's parents Tuesday and agreed to delay at least until after Christmas an operation that would leave the child totally blind.

"It's not going to be much of a Christmas," said Robert Wray, Vicki's father, "but I want Vicki to see and remember it."

Wray and his wife got two pieces of good news Tuesday. They were told there was a slight chance Vicki's operation could be avoided altogether, and that their month-old-son, Edward, was not afflicted with retinal blastoma, the same cancerous disease which has already cost Vicki one of her eyes.

Tests on the infant boy Tuesday at the Duke University Medical Center showed he was free of the disease.

"That came as a relief," said Wray, a Bolling Green, S.C., resident who earns $50 a week working in a textile mill.

Wray brought Vicki to Durham Tuesday, and since he was without funds, he planned to sleep in his car for however long the child was confined to the hospital. A local hotel made this unnecessary by providing him with free lodgings.

The Wrays and their nine children, ranging in age from 14 to infant Edward, celebrated a premature Christmas Monday around a Christmas tree which Wray cut on a nearby farm.

"I don't know whose place we got it from," drawled Wray in a thick Western South Carolina accent. "Some of the neighbors and workers from the mill brought over some ornaments and dressed it up pretty good."

Vicki, blonde and restless, fidgeted nervously in her mother's lap as they sat in the carpeted waiting room at Duke Medical Center. She wore a green corduroy jumper, white blouse and white cowboy boots. She began to cry.

Park Takes Office As ROK President

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) —Retired Gen. Park Chung Hee was inaugurated Tuesday as president of South Korea, formally ending almost three years of military rule.

His first official act as chief executive was to abolish the martial law under which he had governed as head of a military junta.

President Lyndon B. Johnson sent Park a special message, declaring it was his "earnest desire to continue the friendly spirit of cooperation which has characterized relations between the United States and Korea in the past."

Johnson offered Park "warmest congratulations and best wishes for a successful term in office."

Bandit Gets $875 In Baltimore Stickup

BALTIMORE (AP) — A tall, blond bandit wearing a dark trenchcoat held up a midtown branch of the Provident Savings Bank Tuesday and escaped on foot with $875.

A teller, Mrs. Mamie Jordan, said the man gave her a note on the back of an account application. The note read, "Be quiet. I have a gun. Give me all the bills."

Mrs. Jordan said she gave the money in her cash drawer to the holdup man. As he left he said, "Don't touch the button," she told police.

Police said the teller ran to the manager and told him what had happened. Three other tellers and four customers were in the bank at the time.

Old U.S.-Mexican Land Dispute Closed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate closed a 99-year-old boundary dispute between the United States and Mexico Tuesday by giving Mexico 437 acres of Texas land.

The "Chamizal" (thicket) in the heart of El Paso, Tex., has been a source of argument between the two countries since the Rio Grande River changed its course in 1864. The treaty proposed re-routing the river into a new and permanent channel.

Gov. Tawes Takes Note Of Restaurant Criticism

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A restaurant on the new Northeastern Expressway must be operated so that it will help sell Maryland to tourists, Gov. Tawes said Tuesday.

The governor said at his news conference that he had been informed by Thomas N. Kay, administrator of the expressway, that there has been "considerable improvement in service at the Maryland House."

"We certainly need a restaurant we can be proud of and one that will be attractive to tourists," Tawes said.

Numerous complaints had been made about the service at the restaurant the only one on the Maryland section of the highway, and the State Roads Commission gave the operators 30 days to improve or lose their franchise.

There also has been criticism of the decoration of the restaurant, including a mural depicting various non - Maryland scenes. Tawes said he agreed with those who thought the mural should show Maryland attractions.

In other matters, Tawes said:

—He has arranged for 78 men to be released from Maryland penal institutions before Christmas. The traditional Christmas commutations are given to men whose sentences would expire within a few days after the holiday.

—He favors a University of Maryland medical school site for a new Baltimore city morgue. He said that if the city chooses a site near Johns Hopkins University, the state shouldn't be expected to pay the entire cost of operating the morgue as it now does.

CAIRO (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai met with President Nasser Tuesday night to lay before him Red China's evident hope of creating a militant African-Asian bloc as a cold war "third force."

LBJ Asks Three-Star Rank For Adm. Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson launched the mechanics Tuesday for making the three-star rank of Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover permanent and keeping him on active duty after the mandatory retirement age of 64.

The outspoken atomic submarine pioneer will reach that age on Jan. 27. It had been announced last June by Fred Korth, then secretary of the navy, that Rickover would continue in his job and rank while on the retired rolls.

He is director of the nuclear power division of the Bureau of Ships and as a vice admiral receives a salary of nearly $20,000 a year. He selects officers to be assigned to atomic submarines and supervises the training of their crews.

Rickover's permanent rank has been rear admiral, with the three-star role a temporary one.

Johnson's nomination of Rickover to hold the higher rank permanently in retirement is subject to Senate ratification. Under the regulations, Rickover will go through the motions of retiring before Feb. 1 and then the Navy will recall him to active duty.

Rickover reached normal retirement age at 62 but was permitted under the law to continue for two more years before reaching the mandatory retirement age.

Johnson's action was announced while the President was en route to New York for his speech to the United Nations.

Along with Rickover's nomination White House officials also announced the formal nomination of Thomas C. Mann to be assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, also previously announced. Mann now is ambassador to Mexico.

GM President Predicts Record Car Sales

DETROIT (UPI)—The president of the world's largest corporation Monday predicted sales of new cars and trucks in the United States this year would reach a record 7.7 million and 1964 sales would "be closely in line."

John F. Gordon, president of General Motors Corp., told the Economic Club of Detroit, "Motors will be in motion again in 1964. The industry will do all it can to keep the economy strong—and prosperous."

Gordon said, in a year-end statement, the industry is "practically certain" to achieve a record of more than 7.7 million new car and truck sales in the United States, including imports this year.

"Looking to 1964, we feel there are grounds for optimism again," Gordon said. "The public evidently likes the industry's new models. Retail sales are currently at high levels, and backlogs of unfilled orders remain substantial. If the general business indicators continue to point upward, industry analysts believe new car and truck sales next year will be closely in line with the 1963 experience."

Gordon said that 92 million motor vehicles will be in use in the United States by 1970 — an increase of 26 per cent in seven years.

"We can foresee a basic annual demand for passenger cars rising by 1970 to almost nine million units. When we add truck forecasts to these figures, we can anticipate the basic trend line rising to more than 10 million units by the end of the decade," he said.

Gordon noted the tremendous growth of the overseas car market.

"The outlook is that by 1970, when the United States is producing 10 million vehicles annually, the rest of the free world will be producing 13 million, for a grand total of 23 million," he said.

The worldwide operations of the industry are not only producing an important favorable effect on this country's balance of payments, he said, but also are benefitting other nations, through investment of capital, creation of jobs, development of technical and managerial skills, expansion of markets, raising of living standards and increase of tax revenues.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) —Douglas Aircraft Co. announced Monday it has received a $48,064,658 contract from the National Aeronautics & Space Administration for work on the Saturn S-IVB rocket stage.

PLAINVIEW, N.Y. (UPI) — Tri-Wall Containers Inc. has signed an agreement with Tillotson & Sons Ltd. for the manufacture and sale of its triple-wall corrugated paper board products in Great Britain, it was announced Monday.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The former petroleum minister of Saudi-Arabia, Abdullah Tariki, Monday demanded the nationalization of all oil resources in Arab countries.

Tariki praised Argentina's oil policy moves and urged Arab countries to "follow this example and remove the shame of concessions."

NEW YORK (UPI) — The country's bigger banks will have record earnings and will pay record dividends for the most part this year, Bank Stock Quarterly said Monday.

Woman Legislator Buys 'Alabama' Log

LONDON (UPI)—Alabama's only woman legislator Monday purchased the log books of the Confederate war steamer Alabama at auction for $3,640.

Mrs. Clara Stone Fields of Mobile was the successful bidder on a 270-page log book recounting the adventures of the Alabama between 1862 and 1864. The auction was conducted at Sotheby's gallery.

Mrs. Fields said she plans to put the book on display at the Mobile Public Library.

Mobile was also the home of Adm. Raphael Semmes, Confederate naval hero who commanded the Alabama.

Woman To Woman

NEW YORK (UPI) — Smart Santa's helpers are stocking up on toys that guarantee an "eyes right" Christmas.

They don't want young eyes that shine with the happiness of the season to be dimmed forever by an unsafe toy or a mishandled holiday decoration.

If all Santa helpers adopted a worrywart view on this score, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness estimates the predicted 12,500 cases of eye injuries among children this holiday season could be curtailed.

Dr. John W. Ferree, executive director of the society, said toy accidents cause most of the vision damage. But Christmas decorations hazards also contribute to the eye casualty list.

Broken lights and shattered tree ornaments turned out the lights in dozens of children's eyes last Yule.

By themselves, the gay decorations usually are harmless. It's what some children do with them that may cost an eye.

Take the case of a lad who wanted to see what made the bubbles bubble in a tree light. He held it over the stove to see if the heat would cause bubbling the way electric current did.

The bulb exploded in his face.

Accidents involving guns and darts, mishaps from chemistry sets in the hands of children too young to play safe, injuries from careless use of pointed toys—all are recorded in the tragic file of preventable eye injury.

Dr. Ferree advises parents to take a major step toward eliminating the needless Christmas eye injuries by "accident-proofing" their gift lists.

"Choose a plaything that your youngster can handle safely right now," Dr. Ferree said. "Don't buy with the idea he'll grow into use of the toy. While you wait for him to grow into using the toy safely, he may well blind himself or a playmate.

"Wise selection of toys means consideration of the child's emotional and physical growth rather than just his chronological age. Better to forego a hazardous toy at the risk of temporarily - bruised young feelings than to try to repair an eye later."

The society suggests parents watch out for two kinds of delayed reaction accidents: The booby-trap and fallout.

The booby-trap is a toy that may look safe now. But check it closely. How about when it's worn by long hard use? Will sharp pointed ends be exposed after wheels fall off, or the rubber tip is lost from the arrow.

Fallout can stem from a new tool kit or Indian outfit older brother knows how to handle. But what happens when he goes to play elsewhere and little brother gets his hands on arrows or a screwdriver?

Charcoal has twice the heating power of wood and burns without flame or smoke. It is still extensively used in many European and Asiatic countries.

What To Buy Your Bored Little Genius

NEW YORK — At the risk of seeming boastful, you have said all along that your children are exceptionally clever. Now an articulate California father, Joseph Weiner, is ready to agree with you.

"Ninety per cent of the kids today are a lot smarter than people think they are," he says, at the same time illustrating his own astuteness in the psychology of parental flattery.

While parents are inclined to believe their children's teachers are blind to true genius, Weiner's case is against the run of the toy mill people. They congentisia "with unchallenging, he says.

Weiner is a short version of Abraham Lincoln with steel gray curly chin whiskers, hair and eyebrows; high cheek bones, and shrewd but gentle gray eyes.

Restless and circumspect, he often wrestled with his conscience during what he considers his misspent years as an advertising man. One of the truisms that came out of his self-debates were, "My God, if you are going to attack something, you've got to be constructive."

His constructive approach is to market toys with challenge, games rather, without archaic intelligence measurements such as "For children 9-to-12."

Now more than a year later, after many meetings with child development authorities, Centers for Gifted Children are blossoming throughout the nation.

At these mothers ponder such games as "War and Peace," in which two world powers fight for the control of a third country; or "Step Chess," a pyramid chess game with complications; or "Swords and Plowshares," a game of disarmament strategy with UN overtones; or twisted rolls of paper that teach arithmetic, spelling, as well as French and German gently.

Naturally, no Christmas stocking will be without a Brighter Thing for Brighter Children package this year, for what would be the neighbors say?

Smart gift-hunters will seize upon these for their friends' children. Who cares whether the child, or the parent for that matter, understands them? They'll never admit it. And think of the flattery.

Invariably, men examining these mutter, "What a great merchandising idea. I wish I'd thought of that." They similiarly exclaimed over "cultured" sweat shirts featuring the countenances of Bach, Beethoven and Brahms, an early fad spawned by Weiner.

The sweatshirts were a part career, at which he was "notoriously successful" and not very happy. Since his defection, he is not always happy either, but "It clicked in my mind one day," he says, "that it isn't wrong to be unhappy."

All that talk about merchandizing psychology makes Weiner a little unhappy. He is intense, sincere, pedantic, altruistic in discussing undeveloped brain power among children. He is enthuiastic about future ideas to be distributed through his Gifted Children Center.

There is a burning need for a magazine, Weiner claims, with humorous and intellectual material by America's greatest writers for its smartest kids.

The circulation would be huge, for wouldn't you need a subscription for your child? And you, and you, and you?

No Holiday For Skin Care!

Holidays have a way of working havoc with complexions . . . at precisely the time when the ladies like to look their lovliest.

Late hours and lack of sleep and overindulgence in rich foods and beverages are hard on the system, even harder on the skin Unfortunately, the skin is a great tattle-tale and wastes no time showing the first signs of festivity and fatigue . . . and more frequent use of cosmetics.

One of the chief methods used by Powers Models to keep complexions under control is constant attention to CLEANLINESS. My models subject their skins to heavy make-up daily for much longer periods of time than the average woman. When they remove their cosmetics, they are scrupulous about erasing every trace. Many of them wear no make-up at all during off-hours, just so their complexions have chances to BREATHE.

Those with extremely delicate skins rely on cleansing creams completely for thorough make-up removal. But they're not content with only one application. They may repeat the cleansing process several times, all the while gently massaging the face in an upward motion, even when blotting away the cream with soft tissues.

Most of the models, however, rely on a cleaning-power combination of cream and soap-and-water—just as you probably do. In addition, they wear moisture cream at night at well as under powder base by day. Again, just as you probably do.

But, are you doing it as regularly as you should during this busy month? The skin-saving rituals that Powers Models can't afford to forget, whatever the season, are just as important to you. Particularly now. Because "now" is when temptations to skip skin care hit their peak. After the party's over, the shortest route to sleep seems the sweetest.

Giving your skin a thorough cleansing doesn't take as much time as you think . . . only a fraction, really, of the time consumed in repairing the ravages of neglect.

Make this skin-saving ritual a regular nightly habit. And make sure, also, that you remove stale make-up completely before applying more. This is how you'll keep your complexion looking fresh even when you attend a series of holiday parties in one day.

Snappy Seasoning

Ever use bacon drippings instead of butter or margarine for seasoning snap beans?

North Cumberland Club To Hold Christmas Dinner

The North Cumberland Homemakers Club will hold its annual covered dish dinner Thursday at noon at Fairview Avenue Church hall. Guests will be welcome.

Members are to bring a covered dish, home made ornament for the tree trimming, jingles and a can of food for a needy family. Mrs. John Haus is general chairman.

No Holiday For Skin Care!

Holidays have a way of working havoc with complexions . . . at precisely the time when the ladies like to look their lovliest.

Late hours and lack of sleep and overindulgence in rich foods and beverages are hard on the system, even harder on the skin Unfortunately, the skin is a great tattle-tale and wastes no time showing the first signs of festivity and fatigue . . . and more frequent use of cosmetics.

One of the chief methods used by Powers Models to keep complexions under control is constant attention to CLEANLINESS. My models subject their skins to heavy make-up daily for much longer periods of time than the average woman. When they remove their cosmetics, they are scrupulous about erasing every trace. Many of them wear no make-up at all during off-hours, just so their complexions have chances to BREATHE.

Those with extremely delicate skins rely on cleansing creams completely for thorough make-up removal. But they're not content with only one application. They may repeat the cleansing process several times, all the while gently massaging the face in an upward motion, even when blotting away the cream with soft tissues.

Most of the models, however, rely on a cleaning-power combination of cream and soap-and-water—just as you probably do. In addition, they wear moisture cream at night at well as under powder base by day. Again, just as you probably do.

But, are you doing it as regularly as you should during this busy month? The skin-saving rituals that Powers Models can't afford to forget, whatever the season, are just as important to you. Particularly now. Because "now" is when temptations to skip skin care hit their peak. After the party's over, the shortest route to sleep seems the sweetest.

Giving your skin a thorough cleansing doesn't take as much time as you think . . . only a fraction, really, of the time consumed in repairing the ravages of neglect.

Make this skin-saving ritual a regular nightly habit. And make sure, also, that you remove stale make-up completely before applying more. This is how you'll keep your complexion looking fresh even when you attend a series of holiday parties in one day.

Snappy Seasoning

Ever use bacon drippings instead of butter or margarine for seasoning snap beans?

North Cumberland Club To Hold Christmas Dinner

The North Cumberland Homemakers Club will hold its annual covered dish dinner Thursday at noon at Fairview Avenue Church hall. Guests will be welcome.

Members are to bring a covered dish, home made ornament for the tree trimming, jingles and a can of food for a needy family. Mrs. John Haus is general chairman.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP) — An 8-month-old girl was fatally injured when she pulled a television set from its stand while crawling on the floor.

Patricia Lee McGonigal, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia McGonigal, died Tuesday in South Baltimore General Hospital. The child was struck on the head Monday night and was admitted to the hospital with a fractured skull.

BALTIMORE (AP) — William Anann learned to his sorrow Tuesday that "fresh off the boat" means just that in selling oysters in Baltimore.

Anann was fined $20 for selling oysters from a boat anchored at a pier. It was testified the oysters had been brought in by truck from Crisfield.

A city ordinance permits sale of oysters at the docks only from boats which transport them.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Municipal Judge I. Sewell Lamdin dismissed Tuesday for insufficient evidence a charge of gambling against William J .Pappas. If there had been any evidence, it had been burned up by Pappas.

Police said they were waiting outside Pappas' home last Friday night when he got into his car. As they closed in for the arrest, the interior of the car was filled with flames.

They also charged him with arson. But Judge Lamdin dismissed that, too, because Pappas' burned his own car.

SNOW HILL, Md. (AP)—Mrs. Thomas F. Johnson said Tuesday she will decide by Jan. 15 whether to seek the congressional seat formerly held by her husband.

He was defeated for re-election to the 1st District seat last year. He was convicted last July 13 of using his influence illegally while in congress in behalf of a convicted savings and loan operator.

Johnson was defeated by Rogers C. B. Morton, a Republican.

Mrs. Johnson said she is becoming "more and more interested" in running for the Democratic nomination next May.

Institution Bids Too High

BALTIMORE (AP)—The state may throw out all bids for a contract to build a new medium security correctional institution at Breathedsville in Washington County, a Department of Public Improvements official said Tuesday.

Director Albert P. Backhaus said the lowest bid submitted on the project was for $10.7 million — $1.7 million above the cost estimated by the state.

"We're in the process of studying where these costs came from," Backhaus said. "We'll probably throw all the bids out, but no positive action has yet been taken."

The proposed institution is to house inmates 25 years old and under. Inmates in that age group from the state penitentiary, the House of Correction and the Maryland Institution for Men are to be transferred to Breathedsville upon its completion to relieve overcrowding at the three institutions.

Bids On Highway Projects Opened

BALTIMORE (AP) — Williams Construction Co. Inc. of Baltimore was the apparent low bidder on a contract to build a section of Interstate 70 in Washington County between Hancock and the Pennsylvania state line.

The State Roads Commission said Tuesday the firm bid $3,048,062 for the work, which includes more than six miles of road and five bridges.

Three other apparent low bidders on other contracts were announced by the commission. The Bituminous Construction Co. of Baltimore bid $177,880.30 for a contract to grade, drain and surface less than two miles of Maryland 291 between Morgan Creek Bridge and Morgnec in Kent County.

The Eugene Cheney Co. of Upper Marlboro bid $114,756.75 to do the same type of work on Maryland 263 for a mile east of Maryland 2 in Calvert County.

A. H. Smith of Branchville, Md., bid $403,753.26 for a contract to grade, drain and surface a four-mile section of Maryland 5.

Stage Set For Court Test Of Maryland Accommodations Law

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The stage was set Tuesday for court testing of the validity of Maryland's six-month old law requiring restaurants and hotels to serve Negroes.

C. Maurice Weidemeyer, an attorney and Democratic state delegate from Anne Arundel County, said he had chosen to have a complaint against an Annapolis drive-in motel heard in circuit court instead of by the state interracial commission.

Weidemeyer wants to challenge the law itself and said "I can't do that before the interracial commission."

The commission had scheduled a public hearing on the complaint of discrimination for Wednesday. It was canceled upon notice from Weidemeyer that he was exercising an option in the law to go directly to circuit court.

The state's attorney for Anne Arundel, Marvin Anderson, also was notified and it will be up to him to initiate a proceeding on the complaint by three Negroes.

Parren J. Mitchell, commission chairman, said the law prohibits naming an accused establishment in advance of a public hearing or court action.

Weidemeyer said he will argue that the law covering Baltimore City and 11 of the 23 counties had been stayed from going into effect in June by petitions for referendum.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins, on advice of Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan, ruled that several of the signatures were not valid and there were an insufficient number to suspend the law until it could be voted upon next November.

Weidemeyer contends the state officials did not have authority to rule on the petitions, only to accept them.

"We're not admitting nor denying discrimination, that's immaterial," Weidemeyer said of the pending court case.

If the circuit court enjoins the motel from discrimination, Weidemeyer said he will appeal.

Laundry Pay Law Urged

BALTIMORE (AP) — A state law requiring a minimum wage of $1 an hour for laundry workers will be supported by an association of owners.

Daniel L. Senft Jr., executive secretary of the Laundry-Drycleaning Institute of Baltimore, said Tuesday it will urge passage of the law by the Legislature in February.

Repeated attempts by organized labor for such a law for all workers not covered by the federal minimum wage of $1.25 have failed in the past.

The Laundry-Drycleaning Institute estimates it employs between 1,500 and 2,000 and does 90 per cent of Baltimore's family business.

"Responsible members of the Baltimore family laundry industry are today paying average wages in excess of $1 per hour," Senft stated.

"There is absolutely no reason why the pay practices of a few employers, which have never been condoned by the institute, should be permitted to cast a cloud on the industry as a whole."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

DERELICT LEO—This is Leo, the mangy old derelict lion of the Phoenix, Ariz., Zoo. Officials decided to sell Leo because of a lack of space to keep him at the zoo. Twelve Phoenix girls, 8 to 13 years old, set up a howl and vowed to collect $16,000 to get Leo an enclosure. The girls, by staging a backyard circus and an art show, have collected $172.38. The girls are still at it, this time selling homemade novelties. "And just think," says one of them, "we just need $15,827.62." (AP Photofax)

79 Of 81 Jetliner Victims Identified

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland chief medical examiner said Tuesday he has identified 79 of the 81 persons killed in the jet airliner crash near Elkton, Md., Dec. 8.

Dr. Russell S. Fisher said the two other victims had been presumptively identified. The remains have been turned over to relatives, Dr. Fisher said, and the mass burial which had been tentatively proposed was canceled.

Seventy-three passengers and eight crewman perished when the Pan American Airlines Boeing 707 exploded in mid-air during a thunderstorm. The flight originated in Puerto Rico and was bound for Philadelphia.

Federal investigators said evidence indicated the fuel line of the plane was struck by lightning, causing the explosion.

The first cotton imported into the United States was in 1638 at Salem, Mass.

Cairn terriers got their name from ttheir ability to squeeze into rock piles for foxes and wildcats.

Laundry Pay Law Urged

BALTIMORE (AP) — A state law requiring a minimum wage of $1 an hour for laundry workers will be supported by an association of owners.

Daniel L. Senft Jr., executive secretary of the Laundry-Drycleaning Institute of Baltimore, said Tuesday it will urge passage of the law by the Legislature in February.

Repeated attempts by organized labor for such a law for all workers not covered by the federal minimum wage of $1.25 have failed in the past.

The Laundry-Drycleaning Institute estimates it employs between 1,500 and 2,000 and does 90 per cent of Baltimore's family business.

"Responsible members of the Baltimore family laundry industry are today paying average wages in excess of $1 per hour," Senft stated.

"There is absolutely no reason why the pay practices of a few employers, which have never been condoned by the institute, should be permitted to cast a cloud on the industry as a whole."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) —A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

LOWERING THE BOOM—Installation of a "boom" receptacle has given the Air Force F-105 tactical fighter a new versatility, enabling it to refuel from either the flying boom (of the KC-135, as shown over Florida), or the trailing hose of the probe-and-drogue used on KB-50 and KC-97 tankers.

Stock Market Survived Many Shocks In 1963

By LEWIS A. WEBEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market absorbed effects of a Securities & Exchange Commission investigation, predictions of a possible recession in 1964, and the assassination of a President to rise to historic heights this past year, and mostly on the basis of one promise—a tax cut.

When the late President John F. Kennedy dangled the prospects of a $13.5 billion across-the-board tax cut before the nation last January, unknowingly he was helping to chart an upward course for the stock market.

A great deal happened after that but little that threw the market off its course for long. One thing remained certain, the financial community was pinning its hopes on a tax cut either in 1963 or early 1964.

One of the most unsettling things surrounding talks of the cut were predictions, notably from President Kennedy and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, that there might be a recession next year if tax cut legislation didn't go through.

This drew a chrous of nays from many quarters who pointed to the possibility of a heretofore unheard of third consecutive year of record auto sales in 1964, a sharp rebound in steel production, the rise of durable goods, new construction and machine tool orders, soaring corporate profits and the many favorable dividend actions.

Dividends Up

In 1963 alone, many of the country's leading blue chips either increased their dividends or declared extras including General Motors, Standard Oil (N.J.), RCA, Con Edison, General Foods, IBM, Texaco, Woolworth, Du Pont and Xerox.

Chrysler and American Telephone provided some of the most exciting dividend news of the year. Chrysler doubled its dividend and split its stock 2-for-1 in February and compounded this in October by splitting its stock 2-for-1 again and raising its dividend another 100 per cent.

Toward the end of November, directors of American Telephone surprised its shareholders by boosting the dividend on the regular stock in April, splitting the common stock 2-for-1 next June and offering new stock to holders of record Feb. 18. This meant that AT&T, which has more stockholders than any other company in the country, will be paying out $1.2 billion in dividends next year.

According to the Department of Commerce, figures on all corporate profits after taxes for the second quarter of 1963 reached a record $26.8 billion or $1.4 billion over 1962. Another bullish factor was capital spending which was reported at $39 billion for 196 or $1.8 billion over 1962.

Inflationary Danger

All this, professional observers said, did not seem to indicate recession. One Wall Street bull noted that "while Washington frets about a possible recession, the real danger is inflation. For despite official misgivings, the consumer is feeling no pain."

A few more cautious Wallstreeters point out that the current business boom was in its 35th month in December. Since cycles of this type usually last an average 30 months, the bears have their sights out for any signs of weakening.

However, a look at the popular mrket averages would indicate that there is little to worry about, at least for the present. As of May 28, 1963, the anniversary of the infamous "black Monday" of 1962, approximately $75 billion of the $80 billion lost at that time had been recovered.

The Dow-Jones industrial average, the market's most popular indicator, reached a new high of 737.98 on Sept. 5 of this year and has proceeded to top itself ever since.

In retrospect, there were a number of things which affected the stock market in one way or another during 1963 but two are dominant — the President's assassination and the aid extended by the New York Stock Exchange to the customers of bankrupt Ira Haupt & Co., one of "the Street's" major brokerage houses.

Before both of these incidents, which oddly enough happened during the same week toward the end of November, there had been France's rejection of Great Britain's application for entry into the European Common Market, the SEC's report to Congress on the securities industry and another round of price increases within the steel industry.

Other incidents which touched the market briefly were a ½ per cent hike in the rediscount rate, the President's proposal to tax foreign investments, the U.S. - Russian wheat deal, the signing of the nuclear test ban treaty, the grand jury's subpoena of records from companies involved in the steel price increase and the hike in margin requirements from 50 to 70 per cent.

Hectic Week

Then came one of the most hectic weeks in stock market history.

Prior to the week of Nov. 22, the market had been shaken badly by news that two major stock and commodity brokerage firms — Ira Haupt & Co. and J. R. Williston & Beane, Inc.— were suspended from membership on major trading exchanges after one of their customers, a large buyer of cottonseed and soybean oil futures, was unable to meet nearly $19 million in margin calls.

Williston was reinstated but Haupt was forced out of business. However, the NYSE came to the aid of Haupt customers by putting up some of its own money in the "orderly liquidation" of the brokerage house.

This show of heart in an industry usually concerned only concerned only with the pocket book, had a soothing effect on the market. The small investor, afraid to come back into the market since he was burned in May of 1962, began buying stocks once again.

Maryland Dept. Forests, Parks To Be Studied

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Board of Natural Resources decided Monday to study the controversial change in administration of the Department of Forests and Parks.

The Forests and Parks Commission has appointed an administrator instead of a director to head the department in an apparent move to give the commission broader powers.

The law setting up the board of natural resources specifies that the "director" of the Department of Forests and Parks shall be a member of the board.

William H. Bayliff, executive secretary of the board, was instructed to ask the attorney general if an administrator could serve on the board instead of a director.

The matter was also put on the calendar for discussion at the Jan. 20 meeting.

Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director of the University of Maryland Natural Resources Institute, said he thought the board should look into the administrative change.

"I am concerned with what I see happening here," he said.

He said natural resource agencies can function best if they are headed by a professional director acting under a board of laymen.

Spencer C. Ellis from Wichita Falls, Tex., was recently appointed temporary administrator of the department. Critics have charged the commission, headed by Samuel L. Hammerman of Baltimore, with trying both to create and to carry out policy.

In other action at the board meeting, Sen. J. Frank Raley said the time has come when Maryland must focus its attention on the critical water resource problem.

The St. Marys County Democrat promised his support in the General Assembly for legislation dealing with the study and preservation of natural resources.

Raley listed these steps which he said should be taken:

A study "of the entire water resources of the state and lands adjacent to them."

Passage of water pollution control laws "which have some teeth in them."

Development of a method of financing plants to purify wastes from the rapidly expanding suburban areas.

HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS—An exile from Viet Nam, Vo Thanh Minh, 57, sits in his "home," a tiny, foreign-made auto parked near the United Nations in New York City. He said he planned to remain in the car and fast until Christmas as a non-violent appeal to unite the Vietnamese people in peace. He was led from the car by police later.

Ask New Government

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Caretaker Premier Gen. Ismet Inonu has been asked to try to form another government, two weeks after submitting his resignation.

Inonu, former president of Turkey and leader of the Republican People's Party, resigned Dec. 2 after two small parties left his coalition and erased his parliamentary majority.

Labor Leader Rests

LONDON (UPI)—Deputy Labor Party Leader George Brown, 49, spent a "restful night" after being ordered to cancel his engagements for two weeks, his wife said Tuesday. Doctors have ordered Brown to rest because of "overwork."

Khrush Kin Writes

MOSCOW (UPI)—The 25-year old granddaughter of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has published her first book, it was learned Tuesday.

She is Mrs. Julia Leonidovna Nikolayeva, married daughter of Khrushchev's late son, Leonid, who was killed during World War ... one has been working as a journalist with the Soviet Novosti News Agency.

Her first book "The Flag Without Tissue," contains a number of short sketches on her experiences — including travel to Indonesia in 1957 with Khrushchev.

County Gets Complaints On Lot Assessment Plan

An illuminating session was held yesterday concerning assessing of lots in subdivisions when the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Assessment Review, heard a complaint from John Snyder, who is developing a housing project in Lucas Heights on Shortest Day Road off the Cash Valley Road in District 29.

Snyder has a development of about 15 acres on which 22 lots are laid out. He has sold four of the lots and the County Assessing Department then increased the assessment on the rest of the lots. Snyder said this action was not justified.

John Stitely, supervisor of assessment, said his department has no alternative except to assess on the basis of real value and the sale of the lots for $1,750 each was an indication of the value of lots in the subdivision.

Snyder said the increase of 500 per cent in the assessment was much too high. Stitely said that his department had taken into consideration the money spent by Snyder in having a road built, water supplies and other costs. The county agency also allowed for the future expenditure of $8,000 by Snyder in other improvements within the next three years.

Besides Snyder, other interested persons attending were members of the Western Maryland Home Builders Association. Dick Pownall, head of the association, said that the county should not increase assessments on lots until they are sold or on homes until they are built.

Orrie Sensabaugh, a housing project developer, said that home builders should not be penalized because they improve an area. D. C. Goodfellow, also a housing developer, said that assessing lots in the subdivision on the basis of those sold in the area works a hardship. He stated that in many cases lots lay vacant for many years.

Harry I. Stegmaier, local attorney, also voiced an objection to the system.

Mr. Stitely said that many persons are of the opinion that the filing of a plat for a subdivision brings an automatic increase in assessment on lots. This is not true, he said, as the only basis his department uses is real value in the development. The lines of a plat on a piece of paper do not have anything to do with property value, he added.

R. G. Robeson, an official of the builders group, cited examples of this problem which were discussed at the national convention of home builders he attended recently in Chicago. Property in many parts of the nation is assessed as lots are sold off and in other cases when 50 per cent of lots in a subdivision are sold the assessments are increased.

Both the commissioners and home builders stated that much information was elicited yesterday to help clear the air concerning assessment procedures and the law pertaining to the situation. The commissioners said they would take the matter of the Lucas Heights protest under advisement.

At one point in the discussion, Edward Eichner, an assessor with the county unit, said that starting next year the properties in District 29 (LaVale) will be reassessed. The department takes one area each year for reassessment purposes.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received the work schedule for the Roads Department for this week and continuing through December 27.

Chuck holes on county roads will be filled in if the weather permits. A headwall on Murley's Branch Road will be replaced; a cross-drain on Reynolds Road will be replaced, and a snow fence will be placed on Midlothian Road at Thomas Pullen School of Frostburg State College.

The new slate of officers will be installed Monday, January 7, at the fire hall.

Water Use Ban Lifted For 2 Days

The restrictions on the use of city water will be lifted for two days—Thursday and Friday, G. Ray Light, commissioner of water and electric light, said yesterday.

The ban on indiscriminate use of water was imposed by the City Water Department on November 4 after a seven-month period that saw very little rainfall.

Commissioner Light said the two-day respite will enable residents to clean up their properties and autos in time for Christmas.

The levels in the two lakes have remained fairly static since the ban was imposed on November 4 due to above average rainfall.

At that time, Lake Gordon was five feet, four inches below its crest and Lake Koon was down 16 feet. Sunday, Lake Gordon's level was down three feet, ten inches, and Lake Koon, 21 feet below. That was the same reading taken a week previous.

The present reserves are adequate to supply the city and its customers for 160 days, even if the dams are not replenished by precipitation or springs.

When filled, the reservoirs store a 280-day supply based on consumption of 13,000,000 gallons a day.

Commissioner Light emphasized that the water restrictions will go back into effect on Saturday, with the use of hoses for washing porches, sidewalks and autos being banned.

The two Garrett Countians on the jury are William S. Blocher, Grantsville, and Ralph M. Fauber, 116 Wilson Street, Oakland. Blocher is listed as a tractor-trailer driver and Fauber is an auto mechanic in an Oakland garage.

U.S. Warships Might Be Sent To Indian Ocean

NEW DELHI (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told Prime Minister Nehru Tuesday that the United States is thinking of sending some warships into the Indian Ocean, a move considered as a warning to Red China.

The visiting chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff told Nehru these ships might visit some African ports, said a Foreign Ministry spokesman.

The spokesman said some U.S. Navy ships might pay courtesy calls on Indian ports but no request had been made by the United States to India.

After meeting with Taylor, Nehru told Parliament the United States was considering sending two or three warships to get acquainted with Indian Ocean waters.

Nehru later was asked by reporters if India might object to U.S. warships in the Indian Ocean. The possibility has been criticized by leftists and some others here and has been attacked by Moscow radio.

"How can we object to anyone going wherever they like on the high seas?" Nehru asked.

Tentative OK Is Given On W.Va. Budget Items

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The State Board of Public Works Tuesday gave tentative approval to $3.16 million worth of items out of surplus and recessed for a day of paperwork before it will put its stamp of approval on the 1964-65 budget to be submitted to the 1964 Legislature.

The board also gave tentative approval to an $11.9 million budget for West Virginia University, and about $3.1 million for Marshall University.

The board Tuesday added $400,000 to the WVU budget recommended by Gore and $200,000 to the Marshall budget but had not yet earmarked the money's use.

Also approved tentatively Tuesday were college budgets generally as they were recommended by Gore.

The board scheduled its next meeting for Thursday morning when it is expected to approve an operating budget of nearly $156 million for the next fiscal year.

That appropriation would be about $1.1 million over the $154.8 million recommended by State Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore and some $5.9 million over the current budget.

In order to cover additional expenditures given tentative approval, the board increased anticipated general revenues for the 1964-65 fiscal year by some $800,000 and increased by about $300,000 the estimated $600,000 in expirations that will accrue to the general fund.

Among the items out of surplus that the board approved was $125,000 for the purchase of the old Custom House in Wheeling. A group from Wheeling appeared before the board last week, urging that the Legislature put up the money to buy the building and turn it into an historic shrine.

Other items approved by the board — they will be placed in order of priority during Thursday's meeting—included:

West Virginia University, $315,000 for the Appalachian Studies and Development Center; Marshall University, $185,000 for University Heights project and fire and safety hazards; Welfare Department, $518,000 for equipment; Department of Commerce $200,000 for the New York World's Fair; Kanawha State Forest $242,000; Tygart Lake State Park $475,000, and State Police $61,000 for repairs to the State Police Academy and improvements to the laboratory.

The board had still not decided whether to earmark $450,000 from surplus for instructional aids, as was done for the current year. The money represents about $1 per pupil.

Hay Freight Rate Drop Is Continued

Farmers in Allegany County are reminded that railroads have extended the expiration date of drought emergency hay freight rate reductions to April 30, 1964.

These reductions, which amount to 25 per cent, were granted to several Maryland counties several months ago in the face of recent drought conditions. The original deadline for the rate reductions was December 12.

Procedures for qualifying for the drought emergency hay rate reduction remain unchanged. Prospective hay purchasers should consult the Allegany ASCS office, 126 Union Street, concerning proper forms and procedures.

Basically, the purchaser must request and receive a certificate of entitlement. He also must have the shipper include a statement on the shipping order and bill of lading reducing the railroad's liability by the same percentage as the freight rate reductions.

Fatal Crash Driver Fined $40 In Court

Motor Vehicles Violations Cited

Donald Lee Kelsay, 22, of RD 2, Frostburg, the driver of one of the two cars involved in a fatal accident early December 7, yesterday was fined a total of $40 on two motor vehicle violations.

Killed in the accident on State Route 36 near Zihlman was Miss Drinda Kay Chenowith, 19, of La-Vale, who was a passenger in the car operated by Kelsay.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt fined Kelsay $15 for operating without a license and $25 for failing to grant the right-of-way.

State Police said Kelsay was attempting to pull onto Route 36 after turning around when he was struck in the rear by a car operated by Ralph Bridges, 30, of RD 1, Mt. Savage.

The Chenowith girl was thrown from the Kelsay car and died several hours after being admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said last week there will be no criminal charges placed in the case.

The County Court said that although the governing body adopted the resolution the two men had refused to execute the agreement.

Food Is Tested For Radioactivity

Not all shoppers pushing carts through the food stores are replenishing the family larder. Some of them are collecting fodder for the laboratory.

Sleuths from the Food and Drug Administration, for instance, who are constantly testing food purchased from the nation's grocers for traces of radioactive fallout.

Fallout did not cease with the adoption of the test ban treaty. Some of the effects of atmospheric deposits of radioactive material may continue to be felt well into the next century, and growing uses of peaceful nuclear energy are potential depositors of still more fallout residue in the years to come.

Unusual deposits of radioactive substance have become a potential hazard of the age, not merely an occasional danger caused by one or a particular series of atmospheric detonations. In addition to the radioactive particles already aloft waiting to be deposited at some future date, potential sources of new fallout are sufficiently plentiful to keep fallout researchers busily occupied in measuring levels.

France may elect to test more nuclear weapons, and other non-members of the test ban treaty may some day develop their own nuclear capability.

Much of the concern over the presence of radioactivity in the atmosphere stems from confusion as to standards of acceptability. Most scientists agree the amounts to which mankind is currently exposed are not a hazard to health, but few will agree on how much does constitute a threat.

Preventive research has the most elusive of goals, but in the case of radioactivity and its effects on man, science cannot afford to wait for any other kind.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Toward Economic Isolation

When Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, the German financial wizard of the nineteen thirties, began cooking up all sorts of tricks to keep his master Hitler from having a balance of payments problem, the world trading community regarded it as hitting below the belt. The bilateral barter deals that exchanged German aspirin for Balkan tobacco without recourse to the foreign exchange market effectively kept individual aspirin and tobacco merchants from bidding for the business. Nobody liked Schacht's methods, which were condemned as German isolationism and autarchy.

Having fought a war to get rid of Schacht, the United States should be the last country in the world to go in for the old Nazi's autarchical methods. But what is the proposed tax on American purchases of new foreign securities but a Schachtian device? In essence, it draws an effective political circle around the amount of money which foreign enterprisers might hope to raise in the United States.

Moreover, it does this at a time when we are preaching to Latin American members of the Alliance for Progress that they should be putting much greater reliance on international private investment. Not only is the proposed penalty on Americans who want to lend abroad a Schachtian trick; it is also an indication that we are becoming a nation of hypocrites.

The answer of those who want to keep Americans from sending dollars overseas to buy foreign securities is that we must be pragmatic. The dollars, we are told, are tickets that are cashable for our dwindling gold supply, and the pragmatists boast that the very hint of penalties on buying foreign securities has already helped our balance of payments situation. Europeans are ceasing to borrow money in this country.

The trouble with the purely pragmatic approach is that it boomerangs. No nation that prides itself on being a strong bastion of democratic capitalism, a position that presupposes the desirability of a free flow of investment capital across political borders, can trifle with its principles without causing reprisals. If foreign enterprisers are cut off from access to private investment funds in the world's strongest and most fecund economy, they will turn to their own governments for help. Socialism will get some more converts, and a United States of America that has exhibited such distrust in the operation of capitalist financial techniques will find that its dollar is less and less respected.

Even from the pragmatic point of view the proposed tax on purchases of foreign securities has its shortcomings. During the nineteenth century Britishers who couldn't find use for their growing capital at home deployed it all over the world. They built railroads in the United States and in the Argentine. They were engaged in insuring foreigners' transactions everywhere. Their ships carried foreign goods from one foreign port to another The result was a vast flow of income to Britain from everywhere. This money helped balance the pounds Sterling and the gold which Britain had to pony up for the foodstuffs and raw materials she had to import to live.

Yet the initial sacrifice of pounds and gold needed to pay for Illinois Central Railroad securities, for example, was a drain on the British treasury. The pragmatists of the day might have objected to letting money go out of England if they had thought in Washington's present-day terms. And if they had succeeded in stopping the export of British capital they would have foreclosed the British future.

In a brilliant speech at the recent Investment Bankers Association convention in Hollywood, Fla., Andrew Overby, a New York banker who was formerly Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, remarked that the proposed tax on foreign securities purchases would hurt the U.S. balance of payments in the long run without doing it much good for the short run, and, in a report issued by Overby's IBA foreign investment committee, the tax was described as "not a tax at all, but rather a protective tariff to limit the importation of foreign securities." In short, economic isolationism —and this at a time when we were hoping to say good-bye to all that.

Wonder What She Sees In Him?

How Long Before The Honeymoon Is Over?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Overnight a whole government changes its leadership, but sometimes it takes several weeks or months for the political consequences to be fully appraised.

Based on past experience, the mood after the inauguration of a President is usually one of virtual unanimity, and it takes a few months — sometimes a year or two — before the so-called "honeymoon" is over. This doesn't mean that a President himself then suddenly loses popularity. It merely means that, when a President has had to make decisions, he finds that those who don't agree with him become voluble opponents.

Back in 1923, when Vice President Coolidge had succeeded to the Presidency, the country hailed the new President as entirely different from his predecessor — Warren Harding. Mr. Coolidge was elected President in his own right in 1924. This correspondent recalls sitting alone one day in 1927 with President Coolidge, and the conversation turned to the number of subjects on which he was encountering opposition. He said somewhat ruefully:

"When a man is a successful candidate and has as yet had no responsibility for the making of decisions on public policy, he is strongest with the voters. When he comes into office, however, he has to decide things. There are always two sides — sometimes three. But the moment you make a decision, you find yourself with opposition. The sum total of these grievances has its effect by the time you run for office again."

The foregoing line of thought may have been influential in Mr. Coolidge's announcement not long afterwards that he didn't "choose to run" for re-election in 1928.

Today, President Johnson enjoys a popularity equal to that which is often bestowed on a new President. He has not yet made any fundamental decisions that could develop opposition of the sort that plagued his predecessor. Mr. Johnson is cautious and will not invite unnecessary controversy nor cross any bridges just yet that he doesn't have to cross. But there inevitably will come a time when decisions on major issues will have to be made.

The "civil rights" problem is a case in point. There has been a lot of surmise lately with respect to the hitherto anti-administration attitude of the South. Some reports have said that the South has already changed its view because a "southerner" is in the White House. Some political writers have gone so far as to say that Senator Goldwater's expectation of carrying the South, if nominated, has been wiped out altogether by the change in the White House.

This is to oversimplify American politics. The Southern citizen knows that integration isn't an easy problem to solve, but he has been taught for generations that community life is a matter within state and local jurisdiction. Forced integration is a relatively new experience. Some of the people in the South are prepared to acept certain changes, but the vast majority retain deep-seated objections.

What will President Johnson do about it all? Will he retreat from President Kennedy's position and thus alienate many people in northern districts where the Negro vote and the "liberal" vote could perhaps be mobilized against him in the Presidential election just a few months away? If he adopts the Kennedy policies, will the South abruptly forget its feelings and support him anyway? Human nature doesn't change so rapidly. It sometimes requires a longer period of evolution. Once it is known where President Johnson is to stand, there is sure to be opposition. This merely means that when a decision is made, division naturally arises.

It has been suggested that President Johnson, who is skillful in handling delicate situations in legislative affairs, may develop a compromise that will seem to delay a painful decision while not really changing fundamentals. Adroit political strategy sometimes can make it appear to both sides that each is gaining some points. Opposing politicians, including the next Republican Presidential nominee, will, however, emphasize in their speeches the insufficiency of compromise programs.

Then there's the economy dilemma. President Johnson has made a good approach. He has approved the closing of some military installations that appear to have outlived their usefulness. Naturally, senators and representatives from areas affected shout loudly against the creation of more unemployment. They feel compelled to do so to placate their own constituents. But the amount of saving involved so far is relatively small. The big items, like the $30 billion to be spent in trying to get to the moon in the next few years, are not yet slashed. Token economy, like token integration, doesn't solve fundamental issues.

So, in a few months, if the American people find it looks like big deficits in the treasury for the next few years as their dollars buy less and less, they will divide again at the polls and give strong support to candidates who are courageous enough to do whatever is necessary to restore the government to a sound fiscal position.

Will the American people know definitely by next spring on which side of the two big issues— "Civil Rights" and economy, respectively — the President has really taken his stand? Will they know before the Democratic National Convention in August? Lots of things can happen in the months between now and the November election of 1964.

To date, few real decisions on the major controversies in the political arena have been made by the Johnson Administration. There hasn't been time.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

MORSE, NOT PASSMAN — For years, Rep. Otto Passman, Louisiana Democrat, has claimed fame principally on his efforts — successful most years — in cutting foreign aid appropriations. Passman has achieved this eminence on the basis of his chairmanship of the House Appropriations Subcommittee which handles money requests of that agency.

However, this year, Passman has hardly been heard from. Instead, the limelight has been stolen by an interloper, a Johnny-come-lately — and a liberal, to boot. The man responsible for deep cuts in this year's foreign aid appropriation was Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who entered the Senate as a Republican, switched his affiliation to the Democrats and succeeded in winning re-election under his new party label.

Morse successfully offered a long series of amendments to cut the foreign aid appropriation when it was under consideration in the Senate and now gets credit for the economy effected.

POLITICAL TRUCE — The unrealism of political truces usually are quite subtle, but in the present instance were unusually clear.

After the first shock of President Kennedy's assassination wore off on Capitol Hill, the thought seemed to grow that the best thing Congress could do to help Lyndon Johnson, his successor, was to wrap things up as quickly as possible and go home.

The idea was that a congressional absence would give Johnson time to pick up the reins of government, look over the establishment to see what personnel and policy changes he would need to make, and generally gave him time to settle in his job. Sounded pretty appealing and generous.

The fact is the Congressional opposition to Kennedy's program have strung out this session of Congress until it now is the longest in peace-time history. They have done this because they see political gain for themselves in the delays.

Advantages Of Freeze-Drying Food Process

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The American food industries are constantly developing new processes and products. A 16-ounce steak comes out of a freeze-drying chamber weighing only 4 ounces. It is dehydrated and has the advantage of being light in weight for shipment. As one authority said, "Why ship water from Chicago to Los Angeles?"

The steak is slightly pale in color and there is very little change in its size or shape. It can be kept for years without refrigeration, provided it is packed properly. And the juice returns when water is added just before cooking. How does it get this way? Freeze-drying is a process in which moisture is removed under vacuum while the meat is in a frozen state. Under the circumstances the liquid leaves the tissues as vapor and not water.

Dry soup mixes are on the market. Some of the meat ingredients are freeze-dried, whereas others are dehydrated by conventional methods. Several months ago I had freeze-dried shrimps and other foods while fishing. These are popular among hunters, campers, and picnickers. The reason, "Why lug that extra water all over?"

The main objection to these new processes is the extra expense. Shipping costs more than offset this, especially for those living far from the source of food. The army has demonstrated that the end result is a high quality nutritious food. The vitamin and mineral content depends upon the raw product, processing temperatures, and how it is packaged.

We are asked frequently about ProTen, Swift's new meat tenderizing process. Papain, derived from papaya plant, is injected into the meat where it remains until activated by heat (110 degrees to 185 degrees F.) which usually takes place in the kitchen. Less than 2 micrograms per pound of meat does the trick and it is harmless and does not alter the nutritional value of the steak or chops. Prolonged cooking is not recommended because it leaves the meat somewhat mushy. In time they hope to use bromelin, a similar enzyme, from pineapple. It has the advantage of being activated at lower temperatures.

SANATORIUM STAY

L. R. writes: Nowadays, does a person who gets tuberculosis have to stay in a hospital six months?

REPLY

The period of time varies. Some stay less than six months and others longer. Since the introduction of chemotherapy, prolonged sanatorium care rarely is needed.

NECK NODES

REPLY

This is one possibility but head colds, German measles, ear infections, and infectious mononucleosis also lead to enlarged neck glands.

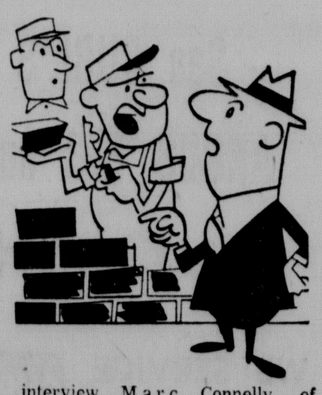
Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf



Two bricklayers, writes Jerry Shane, were working on a building. A sidewalk superintendent paused to ask precisely what they were building. The more stolid bricklayer replied, "I don't know and I don't care. All I do is slap this crummy mortar on these crummy bricks and pile them up in a crummy line." But the second and more imaginative bricklayer enthused, "I'm helping to build a great cathedral with a beautiful spire that will point straight up to Heaven."

So the second man was fired because they were building a garage.

Jackie Gleason dropped in at a summer resort in the Catskills where business was so phenomenal that the management turned away a young unmarried doctor.

William Saroyan once set out to interview Marc Connelly, of "Green Pastures" fame. He reported later, "Connelly is one of the most interesting talkers I ever encountered. At the conclusion of the interview, I was so hoarse I couldn't say another word for fifteen minutes!"

LBJ Treats Foreign Correspondents To Tour Of Family Living Quarters

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Fourteen of the top foreign correspondents in the Washington newspaper corps got a rare treat when President Johnson escorted them personally on a tour of the family living quarters in the White House.

Seldom are outsiders admitted to the second floor of the White House. Winston Churchill used to stay there during the war when he came to confer with President Roosevelt, and used to clomp down the hall in his slippers with a crimson bathrobe flapping over his pouch. But since the construction of Blair House, no foreign visitors reside in the White House and newspapermen have not been admitted to the second floor since before Eisenhower.

Johnson, however, invited fourteen foreign correspondents, representing French, Japanese, Italian and Russian newspapers, with their wives, to meet him on the second floor for refreshments. Vladimer Vaschedcheko, of the Soviet government's Tass Agency, was also present.

After coffee, the President announced: "Come on, don't you all want to see the rest of the second floor?"

He showed them all the rooms, including his own bed room where the bed was turned down and his pajamas were laid out ready for retirement.

"Isn't this wonderful!" remarked Jean La Grange, correspondent of France Presse. "No one in all history has seen De Gaulle's pajamas."

LBJ's pajamas were a mauve brown.

The President showed them the treaty room.

"It startled me," he said, "when I walked in here one day and found Lucy's plane geometry book lying here."

The President also showed his visitors the balcony, or "back porch," which Harry Truman built despite great architectural criticism, and almost everything else on the second floor of the White House.

Johnson had looked up the record of each guest, knew their careers, talked to them with intelligence.

Despite the fascination of the personal Presidential tour, even more important were Johnson's own words in explaining his goals as President.

"Our No. 1 problem is not bases," he said, "nor tax bills nor civil rights. Our No. 1 problem is going down the road together with our neighbors with dignity and better understanding toward peace."

The fourteen top correspondents departed feeling that their country has a friend in the White House and that the White House is not a national museum, but a home.

Strange Political Maneuvers

Speaker John McCormack's close friends are so worried that he will be removed as next in line to be President of the United States that they have started an undercover investigation to see if they can pin the Communist label on some of McCormack's critics. Especially they are probing the Twentieth Century Fund in Boston which has been urging that McCormack step down.

McCormack's friends are also spreading the word that the speaker's handsome nephew, Eddie McCormack, would be appointed solicitor general of the United States to argue government cases before the Supreme Court. Eddie McCormack was defeated for senator in the Massachusetts primary by Ted Kennedy, the late President's brother.

Eddie is a likeable former attorney general of Massachusetts who has distinguished himself in the past year by negotiating to build a Schlitz Brewery in Turkey, a Moslem nation which does not condone alcohol. McCormack tried to get foreign aid funds for constructing the brewery but failed. Later he wangled a U. S. government guarantee that if the brewery was seized or destroyed by the Turkish government the U. S. taxpayers would foot the bill.

This was considered a pretty good days work and his reported fee was $30,000. Reason why the Schlitz Brewing Company of Milwaukee reached all the way to Boston for an attorney obviously was because, as nephew of the popular, powerful speaker, McCormack, he had some influence.

To replace Archibald Cox, a distinguished former professor in the Harvard Law School with Eddie McCormack as solicitor general is not the easiest piece of political legerdemain. To accomplish it one of Speaker McCormack's devoted newspaper friends, undoubtedly without the speaker's knowledge, started a whispering campaign against Cox. One whisper is that he is planning a probe of the right wing. Another is that it was Cox who sold President Johnson on appointing Chief Justice Earl Warren chairman of the presidential commission to investigate Kennedy's Dallas assassination. This also is expected to arouse the ire of the far right.

Washington sometimes operates on rumor and innuendo. Weird as they may be, this is the way some people are trying to influence appointments in the Johnson Administration.

One of the gentlest of men is Leonard Louis Levinson. He is a stout person with the belligerence of a tranquilized mouse. Mr. Levinson has only two marks against him: (1) He is a writer; (2) He is a good one. He sports a gardenia and a droopy mustache and, to show versatility, he wrote a big book about Wall Street last year and, this year, "The Left-Handed Dictionary."

There may be a communion between those two, but, if so, it escapes me. His Wall Street book was so expensive that Ziff-Davis was afraid to put the price inside the flap. "The Left-Handed Dictionary" has been in the making for at least 15 years. It's a 95 cent soft-cover job, obviously an imitation of Ambrose Bierce's "Devil's Dictionary" and, in some ways, funnier.

Food Is Tested For Radioactivity

Not all shoppers pushing carts through the food stores are replenishing the family larder. Some of them are collecting fodder for the laboratory.

Sleuths from the Food and Drug Administration, for instance, who are constantly testing food purchased from the nation's grocers for traces of radioactive fallout.

Fallout did not cease with the adoption of the test ban treaty. Some of the effects of atmospheric deposits of radioactive material may continue to be felt well into the next century, and growing uses of peaceful nuclear energy are potential depositors of still more fallout residue in the years to come.

Unusual deposits of radioactive substance have become a potential hazard of the age, not merely an occasional danger caused by one or a particular series of atmospheric detonations. In addition to the radioactive particles already aloft waiting to be deposited at some future date, potential sources of new fallout are sufficiently plentiful to keep fallout researchers busily occupied in measuring levels.

France may elect to test more nuclear weapons, and other non-members of the test ban treaty may some day develop their own nuclear capability.

Much of the concern over the presence of radioactivity in the atmosphere stems from confusion as to standards of acceptability. Most scientists agree the amounts to which mankind is currently exposed are not a hazard to health, but few will agree on how much does constitute a threat.

Preventive research has the most elusive of goals, but in the case of radioactivity and its effects on man, science cannot afford to wait for any other kind.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Toward Economic Isolation

When Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, the German financial wizard of the nineteen thirties, began cooking up all sorts of tricks to keep his master Hitler from having a balance of payments problem, the world trading community regarded it as hitting below the belt. The bilateral barter deals that exchanged German aspirin for Balkan tobacco without recourse to the foreign exchange market effectively kept individual aspirin and tobacco merchants from bidding for the business. Nobody liked Schacht's methods, which were condemned as German isolationism and autarchy.

Having fought a war to get rid of Schacht, the United States should be the last country in the world to go in for the old Nazi's autarchical methods. But what is the proposed tax on American purchases of new foreign securities but a Schachtian device? In essence, it draws an effective political circle around the amount of money which foreign enterprisers might hope to raise in the United States.

Moreover, it does this at a time when we are preaching to Latin American members of the Alliance for Progress that they should be putting much greater reliance on international private investment. Not only is the proposed penalty on Americans who want to lend abroad a Schachtian trick; it is also an indication that we are becoming a nation of hypocrites.

The answer of those who want to keep Americans from sending dollars overseas to buy foreign securities is that we must be pragmatic. The dollars, we are told, are tickets that are cashable for our dwindling gold supply, and the pragmatists boast that the very hint of penalties on buying foreign securities has already helped our balance of payments situation. Europeans are ceasing to borrow money in this country.

The trouble with the purely pragmatic approach is that it boomerangs. No nation that prides itself on being a strong bastion of democratic capitalism, a position that presupposes the desirability of a free flow of investment capital across political borders, can trifle with its principles without causing reprisals. If foreign enterprisers are cut off from access to private investment funds in the world's strongest and most fecund economy, they will turn to their own governments for help. Socialism will get some more converts, and a United States of America that has exhibited such distrust in the operation of capitalist financial techniques will find that its dollar is less and less respected.

Even from the pragmatic point of view the proposed tax on purchases of foreign securities has its shortcomings. During the nineteenth century Britishers who couldn't find use for their growing capital at home deployed it all over the world. They built railroads in the United States and in the Argentine. They were engaged in insuring foreigners' transactions everywhere. Their ships carried foreign goods from one foreign port to another. The result was a vast flow of income to Britain from everywhere. This money helped balance the pounds Sterling and the gold which Britain had to pony up for the foodstuffs and raw materials she had to import to live.

Yet the initial sacrifice of pounds and gold needed to pay for Illinois Central Railroad securities, for example, was a drain on the British treasury. The pragmatists of the day might have objected to letting money go out of England if they had thought in Washington's present-day terms. And if they had succeeded in stopping the export of British capital they would have foreclosed the British future.

In a brilliant speech at the recent Investment Bankers Association convention in Hollywood, Fla., Andrew Overby, a New York banker who was formerly Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, remarked that the proposed tax on foreign securities purchases would hurt the U.S. balance of payments in the long run without doing it much good for the short run, and, in a report issued by Overby's IBA foreign investment committee, the tax was described as "not a tax at all, but rather a protective tariff to limit the importation of foreign securities." How Long Before The Honeymoon Is Over?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Overnight a whole government changes its leadership, but sometimes it takes several weeks or months for the political consequences to be fully appraised.

Based on past experience, the mood after the inauguration of a President is usually one of virtual unanimity, and it takes a few months — sometimes a year or two — before the so-called "honeymoon" is over. This doesn't mean that a President himself then suddenly loses popularity. It merely means that, when a President has had to make decisions, he finds that those who don't agree with him become voluble opponents.

Back in 1923, when Vice President Coolidge had succeeded to the Presidency, the country hailed the new President as entirely different from his predecessor — Warren Harding. Mr. Coolidge was elected President in his own right in 1924. This correspondent recalls sitting alone one day in 1927 with President Coolidge, and the conversation turned to the number of subjects on which he was encountering opposition. He said somewhat ruefully:

"When a man is a successful candidate and has as yet had no responsibility for the making of decisions on public policy, he is strongest with the voters. When he comes into office, however, he has to decide things. There are always two sides — sometimes three. But the moment you make a decision, you find yourself with opposition. The sum total of these grievances has its effect by the time you run for office again."

The foregoing line of thought may have been influential in Mr. Coolidge's announcement not long afterwards that he didn't "choose to run" for re-election in 1928.

Today, President Johnson enjoys a popularity equal to that which is often bestowed on a new President. He has not yet made any fundamental decisions that could develop opposition of the sort that plagued his predecessor. Mr. Johnson is cautious and will not invite unnecessary controversy nor cross any bridges just yet that he doesn't have to cross. But there inevitably will come a time when decisions on major issues will have to be made.

The "civil rights" problem is a case in point. There has been a lot of surmise lately with respect to the hitherto anti-administration attitude of the South. Some reports have said that the South has already changed its view because a "southerner" is in the White House. Some political writers have gone so far as to say that Senator Goldwater's expectation of carrying the South, if nominated, has been wiped out altogether by the change in the White House.

This is to oversimplify American politics. The Southern citizen knows that integration isn't an easy problem to solve, but he has been taught for generations that community life is a matter within state and local jurisdiction. Forced integration is a relatively new experience. Some of the people in the South are prepared to acept certain changes, but the vast majority retain deep-seated objections.

What will President Johnson do about it all? Will he retreat from President Kennedy's position and thus alienate many people in northern districts where the Negro vote and the "liberal" vote could perhaps be mobilized against him in the Presidential election just a few months away? If he adopts the Kennedy policies, will the South abruptly forget its feelings and support him anyway? Human nature doesn't change so rapidly. It sometimes requires a longer period of evolution. Once it is known where President Johnson is to stand, there is sure to be opposition. This merely means that when a decision is made, division naturally arises.

It has been suggested that President Johnson, who is skillful in handling delicate situations in legislative affairs, may develop a compromise that will seem to delay a painful decision while not really changing fundamentals. Adroit political strategy sometimes can make it appear to both sides that each is gaining some points. Opposing politicians, including the next Republican Presidential nominee, will, however, emphasize in their speeches the insufficiency of compromise programs.

Then there's the economy dilemma. President Johnson has made a good approach. He has approved the closing of some military installations that appear to have outlived their usefulness. Naturally, senators and representatives from areas affected shout loudly against the creation of more unemployment. They feel compelled to do so to placate their own constituents. But the amount of saving involved so far is relatively small. The big items, like the $30 billion to be spent in trying to get to the moon in the next few years, are not yet slashed. Token economy, like token integration, doesn't solve fundamental issues.

So, in a few months, if the American people find it looks like big deficits in the treasury for the next few years as their dollars buy less and less, they will divide again at the polls and give strong support to candidates who are courageous enough to do whatever is necessary to restore the government to a sound fiscal position.

Will the American people know definitely by next spring on which side of the two big issues—"Civil Rights" and economy, respectively — the President has really taken his stand? Will they know before the Democratic National Convention in August? Lots of things can happen in the months between now and the November election of 1964.

To date, few real decisions on the major controversies in the political arena have been made by the Johnson Administration. There hasn't been time.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

MORSE, NOT PASSMAN — For years, Rep. Otto Passman, Louisiana Democrat, has claimed fame principally on his efforts — successful most years — in cutting foreign aid appropriations. Passman has achieved this eminence on the basis of his chairmanship of the House Appropriations Subcommittee which handles money requests of that agency.

However, this year, Passman has hardly been heard from. Instead, the limelight has been stolen by an interloper, a Johnny-come-lately — and a liberal, to boot. The man responsible for deep cuts in this year's foreign aid appropriation was Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who entered the Senate as a Republican, switched his affiliation to the Democrats and succeeded in winning re-election under his new party label.

Morse successfully offered a long series of amendments to cut the foreign aid appropriation when it was under consideration in the Senate and now gets credit for the economy effected.

POLITICAL TRUCE — The unrealism of political truces usually are quite subtle, but in the present instance were unusually clear.

After the first shock of President Kennedy's assassination wore off on Capitol Hill, the thought seemed to grow that the best thing Congress could do to help Lyndon Johnson, his successor, was to wrap things up as quickly as possible and go home.

The idea was that a congressional absence would give Johnson time to pick up the reins of government, look over the establishment to see what personnel and policy changes he would need to make, and generally gave him time to settle in his job. Sounded pretty appealing and generous.

The fact is the Congressional opposition to Kennedy's program have strung out this session of Congress until it now is the longest in peace-time history. They have done this because they see political gain for themselves in the delays.

One of the gentlest of men is Leonard Louis Levinson. He is a stout person with the belligerence of a tranquilized mouse. Mr. Levinson has only two marks against him: (1) He is a writer; (2) He is a good one. He sports a gardenia and a droopy mustache and, to show versatility, he wrote a big book about Wall Street last year and, this year, "The Left-Handed Dictionary."

There may be a communion between those two, but, if so, it escapes me. His Wall Street book was so expensive that Ziff-Davis was afraid to put the price inside the flap. "The Left-Handed Dictionary" has been in the making for at least 15 years. It's a 95 cent soft-cover job, obviously an imitation of Ambrose Bierce's "Devil's Dictionary" and, in some ways, funnier.

Advantages Of Freeze-Drying Food Process

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The American food industries are constantly developing new processes and products. A 16-ounce steak comes out of a free-drying chamber weighing only 4 ounces. It is dehydrated and has the advantage of being light in weight for shipment. As one authority said, "Why ship water from Chicago to Los Angeles?"

The steak is slightly pale in color and there is very little change in its size or shape. It can be kept for years without refrigeration, provided it is packed properly. And the juice returns when water is added just before cooking. How does it get this way? Freeze-drying is a process in which moisture is removed under vacuum while the meat is in a frozen state. Under the circumstances the liquid leaves the tissues as vapor and not water.

Dry soup mixes are on the market. Some of the meat ingredients are freeze-dried, whereas others are dehydrated by conventional methods. Several months ago I had freeze-dried shrimps and other foods while fishing. These are popular among hunters, campers, and picnickers. The reason, "Why lug that extra water all over?"

The main objection to these new processes is the extra expense. Shipping costs more than offset this, especially for those living far from the source of food. The army has demonstrated that the end result is a high quality nutritious food. The vitamin and mineral content depends upon the raw product, processing temperatures, and how it is packaged.

We are asked frequently about ProTen, Swift's new meat tenderizing process. Papain, derived from papaya plant, is injected into the meat where it remains until activated by heat (110 degrees to 185 degrees F.) which usually takes place in the kitchen. Less than 2 micrograms per pound of meat does the trick and it is harmless and does not alter the nutritional value of the steak or chops. Prolonged cooking is not recommended because it leaves the meat somewhat mushy. In time they hope to use bromelin, a similar enzyme, from pineapple. It has the advantage of being activated at lower temperatures.

SANATORIUM STAY

L. R. writes: Nowadays, does a person who gets tuberculosis have to stay in a hospital six months?

REPLY

The period of time varies. Some stay less than six months and others longer. Since the introduction of chemotherapy, prolonged sanatorium care rarely is needed.

NECK NODES

H. H. writes: Do enlarged lymph nodes at the back of a baby's neck mean leukemia?

REPLY

This is one possibility but head colds, German measles, ear infections, and infectious mononucleosis also lead to enlarged neck glands.

TOMORROW: How to stop smoking.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Two bricklayers, writes Jerry Shane, were working on a building. A sidewalk superintendent paused to ask precisely what they were building. The more stolid bricklayer replied, "I don't know and I don't care. All I do is slap this crummy mortar on these crummy bricks and pile them up in a crummy line." But the second and more imaginative bricklayer enthused, "I'm helping to build a great cathedral with a beautiful spire that will point straight up to Heaven."

So the second man was fired because they were building a garage.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Raymond Burr, television's answer to Clarence Darrow, has signed a contract to defend the innocent in video courtrooms for the eighth straight year.

Nothing will change in the show except the accused persons that Ray saves from going to jail in CBS-TV's "Perry Mason," the legal series based on Earle Stanley Gardner books.

Many television series change as they get older. New characters are often put in the show for no apparent reason. Changes have been known to hurt a series' longevity rather than help. Burr doesn't believe in change for change's sake. Apparently Gardner doesn't either.

"Mr. Gardner is still writing the books and if he changes the books the show will change," Ray said. "We see him once in awhile but he's monumentally busy. Of course he okays every script. Not one is done without his complete OK.

Some television series actors get restless after working in a show for seven years. They complain and ask to get out. Sometimes they mean it, sometimes it's a bluff.

"If I were really bored I don't think I'd continue doing the show because if I were bored I couldn't do a good job," Burr said. "CBS has not let the quality of the show go down at all. There is nothing very large you can do but there are thousands of little things. You can keep things alive remembering that."

"Perry Mason" is one of the world's most popular television shows, Burr said.

"We're playing in 43 countries," he said. "It's th most-viewed television show in the world. I'm happy to say that. CBS sent me a reel that had about nine different languages in it, including Portugese, Spanish, Arabic, Japanese and Italian."

Burr, as "Perry Mason," is the winningest lawyer in the history of the bar. Of the hundreds of clients he's defended, only two have been convicted. One of those was later vindicated and there were "extenuating circumstances" which saved some face for Burr.

"We lost a case three years ago and it wasn't a very good show," recalled Burr. "We received letters from viewers saying, 'Don't ever do that again.' I don't know whether they meant the show or the losing."

Ray is taking a Christmas holiday vacation but it won't be spent trimming a tree. His schedule calls for him to visit troops in Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Okinawa, Guam and Iwo Jima.

He won't confine his appearance to the large military camps. He'll visit hospitals, small military units and remote artillery positions.

Some lonely G.I. is going to be surprised this Christmas when he looks up from his cannon and sees "Perry Mason" standing there.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: There will be no name or address on this one, Ann, because my husband opens all the mail. Please reply in the paper if you can change the words around and make my letter printable.

My husband's closest friend dropped dead of a heart attack six months ago at the age of 44. This man had always been in excellent health, played a great game of tennis and was a leader in all sorts of civic activities. He had been a bachelor until eight months before his death. His wife was 18 years his junior.

My husband told me the day after the funeral that he is sure his friend's coronary was brought on by his marriage. He claims that sex after a certain age is damaging to the heart.

To come to the point, Ann, my husband hasn't touched me since his friend was buried and I don't know what to do. There has been no discussion, he just finds excuses to stay up later than I do every night. My husband is 41 and I am 38. Please help me.

—OUT OF MY MIND

DEAR OUT: Your husband's theory is invalid. Some bachelors who marry in their 40s have a far less strenuous sex life as husbands than they ever had as bachelors.

The death of your husband's close friend has obviously had a traumatic effect on him. He should discuss the problem with a doctor at once. Refusal could mean a shattered marriage.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was a mother who yelled herself hoarse trying to get my children to do things. One day I woke up to the realization that yelling at children only produces resentment and makes them more hostile than ever.

My husband occasionally would step in and resort to drill sergeant methods. He got surface obedience, but he lost their affection. Finally, together we hit on a totally different technique—and it works!

When punishment is in order our children get it promptly—a swat on the bottom, or the loss of a privilege. We have cut out scolding and nagging and have substituted praise instead. We took the emphasis off the things they did wrong and placed it on the things they did right.

It's hard to believe they are the same kids. Instead of bickering and sulking they cooperate with one another and strive for our approval. Anyone who is grumpy and cross is ignored. The cheerful, pleasant child gets to do interesting things and is rewarded with smiles and hugs and compliments.

This is no fairy tale, Ann, it is a method that actually works. I hope other mothers will try it.

—EX-YELLER

DEAR EX-YELLER: Of course it works, but it takes patience and understanding, and many mothers are too immature and short-tempered to try it.

Children respond to approval, affection and suggestion far more readily than they respond to yelling and commands. Thank you for saying it so well. I hope the shriekers will follow your excellent suggestion.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a woman in my 70s and have been very friendly for over thirty years with my next door neighbor. Mrs. X says she is 70 but people who are in a position to know say she is closer to 83.

Mrs. X does not see well and she is as deaf as a doornail. She insists on driving her car everywhere and is forever offering me a ride.

I'm afraid to ride with her and my children have begged me not to. Strangely enough she has never had an accident, which I think is a miracle. Please tell me what to do.

DEAR D. D. E.: The kind of driver you describe may not HAVE accidents but she can CAUSE them. Arrange for other transportation whenever she calls to offer you a ride.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Frostburg Street Closing Asked

Matthew J. Mullaney, local attorney, appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request that two sections of Maple Street extended in Frostburg be opened, then closed.

The procedure is required because the state has purchased property on both sides of the street for use in the expansion program at Frostburg State College.

The two sections are in the county area while the town of Frostburg has acted on a section within the town limits, Mullaney said.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: There will be no name or address on this one, Ann, because my husband opens all the mail. Please reply in the paper if you can change the words around and make my letter printable.

My husband's closest friend dropped dead of a heart attack six months ago at the age of 44. This man had always been in excellent health, played a great game of tennis and was a leader in all sorts of civic activities. He had been a bachelor until eight months before his death. His wife was 18 years his junior.

My husband told me the day after the funeral that he is sure his friend's coronary was brought on by his marriage. He claims that sex after a certain age is damaging to the heart.

To come to the point, Ann, my husband hasn't touched me since his friend was buried and I don't know what to do. There has been no discussion, he just finds excuses to stay up later than I do every night. My husband is 41 and I am 38. Please help me.

—OUT OF MY MIND

DEAR OUT: Your husband's theory is invalid. Some bachelors who marry in their 40s have a far less strenuous sex life as husbands than they ever had as bachelors.

The death of your husband's close friend has obviously had a traumatic effect on him. He should discuss the problem with a doctor at once. Refusal could mean a shattered marriage.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was a mother who yelled herself hoarse trying to get my children to do things. One day I woke up to the realization that yelling at children only produces resentment and makes them more hostile than ever.

My husband occasionally would step in and resort to drill sergeant methods. He got surface obedience, but he lost their affection. Finally, together we hit on a totally different technique—and it works!

When punishment is in order our children get it promptly—a swat on the bottom, or the loss of a privilege. We have cut out scolding and nagging and have substituted praise instead. We took the emphasis off the things they did wrong and placed it on the things they did right.

It's hard to believe they are the same kids. Instead of bickering and sulking they cooperate with one another and strive for our approval. Anyone who is grumpy and cross is ignored. The cheerful, pleasant child gets to do interesting things and is rewarded with smiles and hugs and compliments.

This is no fairy tale, Ann, it is a method that actually works. I hope other mothers will try it.

—EX-YELLER

DEAR EX-YELLER: Of course it works, but it takes patience and understanding, and many mothers are too immature and short-tempered to try it.

Children respond to approval, affection and suggestion far more readily than they respond to yelling and commands. Thank you for saying it so well. I hope the shriekers will follow your excellent suggestion.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a woman in my 70s and have been very friendly for over thirty years with my next door neighbor. Mrs. X says she is 70 but people who are in a position to know say she is closer to 83.

Mrs. X does not see well and she is as deaf as a doornail. She insists on driving her car everywhere and is forever offering me a ride.

I'm afraid to ride with her and my children have begged me not to. Strangely enough she has never had an accident, which I think is a miracle. Please tell me what to do.

—D. D. E.

DEAR D. D. E.: The kind of driver you describe may not HAVE accidents but she can CAUSE them. Arrange for other transportation whenever she calls to offer you a ride.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Frostburg Street Closing Asked

Matthew J. Mullaney, local attorney, appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request that two sections of Maple Street extended in Frostburg be opened, then closed.

The procedure is required because the state has purchased property on both sides of the street for use in the expansion program at Frostburg State College.

The two sections are in the county area while the town of Frostburg has acted on a section within the town limits, Mullaney said.

Frostburg May Boost Pay Of City Officials

Raise Would Follow Municipal Election

FROSTBURG — The Mayor and City Council authorized the city attorney, John Sullivan, at Monday night's meeting, to draw up an ordinance raising the salaries of the council effective May 1, 1964.

Mayor James and the council pointed out that under the new city charter, the council has the power to raise salaries effective following a municipal election.

Frostburg's bi-annual election will take place next April, the new salary will take effect when the Mayor and Council is sworn in the first Monday in May.

The new salary scale will be raised from $700 annually to $1,000 for the Mayor and from $500 annually for commissioners to $800. Council pointed out that there has not been a raise for many years in the council and that it was felt that the council taking over in May should be paid a higher rate.

It was also announced that bound copies of the new city charter are at City Hall and may be purchased for $3 per copy.

Four streets were designated as sled riding streets. These streets will be barricaded from 6 to 9 p.m. when sled riding is available. All motorists have been asked to be especially careful when driving in the area of these streets, Centennial, Linden, Hill and Green Streets.

The Beall High Band Boosters received an annual donation of $25.

City employes will be granted a half holiday the day before Christmas.

Residents have been cautioned by council that no permission has been given to any individual or concern to make solicitations by phone for Christmas trees and asking for a deposit.

Receive Preaching Licenses

School Starts Mitten Tree

MT. SAVAGE—Mt. Savage High and Elementary schools have started a project for needy children in this area. A "mitten tree" was originated at the school by William Robertson, mathematics teacher, who is advisor to the Photography Club which is in charge.

Students have been bringing mittens, stockings, sweaters and other articles of clothing, and hanging them on the tree.

The day before the Christmas holidays, club officers will present the clothing to Mrs. Betty Werner, school nurse, for distribution. The project has been very well received by students, faculty and parents alike.

Club officers are Ralph Wilson, president; Terry Crabtree, vice-president; Sandy Sweitzer, secretary, and Cathy Bittner, treasurer. The official photographer for the club is Clarence Golden.

Judge Is Considering Deer Shooting Question

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—An Anne Arundel County judge took under consideration Monday the question of whether a private property owner should be allowed to shoot at will any deer which damages his property.

Judge O. Bowie Duckett gave attorneys for the Western Fruit Growers Sales Co. and the State Game and Inland Fish Commission three weeks in which to file additional briefs before he makes a decision.

He has heard two full days of testimony in the case. The first was Dec. 10.

Western Fruit, owner of the Dillon orchards at Hancock, is the largest grower of peaches and apples in Maryland. It is attempting to set aside as unconstitutional state regulations under which permits must be obtained to kill a marauding deer and kills are limited to one per employe.

The company claimed it has suffered large financial losses from hungry deer herds nipping at its trees and said the game commission is unable to cope with the problem.

Paul Ottinger of Hagerstown, attorney for the firm, said an open season on doe in Western Maryland might bring the problem under control but the commission is too hamstrung by political pressure to grant it.

Most people in Western Maryland are opposed to killing doe, he said. "They feel it's almost as bad as if you struck your mother," he told Judge Duckett.

Loring E. Hawes, assistant attorney general, said all rights to hunt have resided with the state since the origin of common law in Great Britain. He said the company has not utilized all of its remedies under the law in taking its problems of property damage to the commission and obtaining permits to kill deer.

The Dillon orchards cover 4,900 acres in Washington and Allegany counties. Company officials said it would take 50 miles of fence and cost up to $143,000 to surround the property.

The company said it sustained $15,000 in losses to trees from marauding deer in 1960 and $12,949 in five months of 1961 and 1962.

A company witness said as many as 150 deer have been counted on its property at one time.

Raise Would Follow Municipal Election

FROSTBURG — The Mayor and City Council authorized the city attorney, John Sullivan, at Monday night's meeting, to draw up an ordinance raising the salaries of the council effective May 1, 1964.

Mayor James and the council pointed out that under the new city charter, the council has the power to raise salaries effective following a municipal election.

Frostburg's bi-annual election will take place next April, the new salary will take effect when the Mayor and Council is sworn in the first Monday in May.

The new salary scale will be raised from $700 annually to $1,000 for the Mayor and from $500 annually for commissioners to $800. Council pointed out that there has not been a raise for many years in the council and that it was felt that the council taking over in May should be paid a higher rate.

It was also announced that bound copies of the new city charter are at City Hall and may be purchased for $3 per copy.

Four streets were designated as sled riding streets. These streets will be barricaded from 6 to 9 p.m. when sled riding is available. All motorists have been asked to be especially careful when driving in the area of these streets, Centennial, Linden, Hill and Green Streets.

The Beall High Band Boosters received an annual donation of $25.

City employes will be granted a half holiday the day before Christmas.

Residents have been cautioned by council that no permission has been given to any individual or concern to make solicitations by phone for Christmas trees and asking for a deposit.

Rotary Plans Yule Party At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The annual Christmas party of the Frostburg Rotary Club will be held on Monday at the First Methodist Church, said Thomas V. Baucom, president.

Guest speakers at this weeks meeting in Clarysville Inn were Mrs. William Van Newkirk and Mrs. Raymond McCullough.

They explained the purpose of the Allegany County League of Women Voters which was chartered last April. They are officers in the organization.

The speakers pointed out that the league was formed in 1920 and at the present time it includes 1,150 clubs with 135,000 members.

The club does not support or oppose candidates or political parties and its purpose is to study local, state and national affairs in order the members and public may be informed.

The county group recently completed a "Know Your County Survey," which explains how the county government and its agencies operate.

Dr. Franklin Lane, Frostburg State College was inducted into the Rotary Club as a new member by H. Reford Aldridge.

He Recommends Surgery ... but can you handle the expense? Regardless of your answer, you're still going to need an operation. And if you don't have adequate health care protection, the need for unexpected surgery can cause real financial problems. The solution? Blue Shield.

Here's why: Blue Shield provides all subscribers with liberal benefits for physicians' services. And for those whose annual incomes are within specified limits—up to $7,000 for a family enrolled in Plan B—participating physicians accept Blue Shield allowances as full payment for covered services. In Maryland, only Blue Shield offers such a medical-surgical paid-in-full benefit.

This explains why 750,000 Marylanders are enrolled in Blue Shield . . . and why 80,000 joined Blue Shield last year alone. Shouldn't you have Blue Shield?

We'll be glad to send you full information.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Where but in print can you get so close to the advertising messages that interest you? Where else can a woman clip the coupons and recipes that intrigue her? Or tear out tips to try on leftovers? Or mark, for future marketing, any of the colorful food ideas which strike her fancy?

And where else can she circle and compare the colors and styles of clothing and furnishings that appeal to her?

Where else, in fact, can any message be re-run at will by an interested audience?

So make sure a good part of your advertising message gets into print. Let somebody's eyes linger over it as long as they like. Let somebody's scissors clip it free of competition. And then watch someone's pocket or purse carry it to the place of purchase. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

Campers Take Overtime Tilt At Piedmont

Vandenberg Taps In Deciding Basket In 56 To 53 Thriller

Allegany High School's Campers extended their two-year winning streak to 15 games and cracked Piedmont High School's 12-game home floor victory string by defeating the Lions in an overtime thriller last night by the score of 56-53.

Jim Shaver meshed two free throws with eight seconds remaining in the final period to tie the score at 50-50 and sent the game into an extra three-minute period.

After Ray Stevenson's basket put Piedmont two points behind in the overtime session at 54-52 Steve Vandenberg tapped in the goal that give the Campers a four-point advantage and the ball game. Larry Patterson's foul was the final point of the contest.

Piedmont led at the end of the first quarter, 15-12, and team score was knotted at 26-all at intermission. At one point in the third period Piedmont enjoyed a 6-point lead but this was shaved to 43-42 as the quints went into action in the final quarter.

Stevenson played an outstanding defensive game and limited Vandenberg to seven goals. Steve, however, led Allegany scorers with 16 points and Jim Arrowwood was the runner-up with 13 tallies. Patterson was the game's top point-maker with a total of 19, including eight baskets. Jim Shaver contributed 11 points.

Paul Light of Allegany and Wanzel Jessie of Piedmont fouled out in the fourth quarter.

The win gave the Campers a 3-0 mark for the season. The Lions are 3-2.

Wilson Gets 33 As Mt. Savage Tops Hornets

Indians' Late Rally Brings 79-74 Win

Ralph Wilson hit for 33 points and Bobby Robertson collected 19 to lead Mt. Savage High School's Indians to a 79-74 victory over the Hyndman High School Hornets last night at Mt. Savage.

Wilson scored 14 field goals and 5-7 at the charity stripe as Coach John Thomas' team made its season record 3-0. Robertson garnered six goals and converted 7 of 9 free throws.

Each team scored 29 goals but the Indians booped 21 of 30 foul shots to Hyndman's 16 out of 18.

With the score knotted at 74-74 three minutes remaining, Mt. Savage put the game on ice when Larry Birmingham meshed a foul shot, Robertson slammed in a 20-footer and Birmingham also connected for a fielder.

The game was a close one all the way. Hyndman held a 22-18 lead at the quarter and trailed at halftime, 41-38, and also at the close of the third stanza, 60-59.

Steve Stouffer headed the Hyndman scoring with 21 points, Lester Wise had 16 and Don Logue 15.

The loss was Hyndman's fourth in five outings.

Explorers Beat Valley In Last Minute, 75-73

Larry Suder Gets 41 Points For Losing Knights

By TED TROXELL

Clutch performances by substitutes Toby Scaletta and Tom Stitcher sparked LaSalle to a 75-73 victory over Valley last night in a thriller at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

The pair of "S-Men" combined for the Explorers' last seven points to give LaSalle its second win in four starts and spoil a brilliant individual performance by the Knights' Larry Suder, who tossed in 41 points.

Scaletta, hustling 5-foot-6 guard, drove for a layup with 1:20 remaining to regain the lead for LaSalle at 70-69 after Billy Orr's jumper had given the visitors a brief advantage.

Stitcher drove for another two points 12 seconds later, then tossed in a LaSalle misfire after Scaletta converted one of two free throw attempts. That gave the Irish a 75-69 edge, but Suder made a pair of fouls and a field goal before the rugged battle ended.

The Black Knights, who suffered their third loss in four games, held the lead until midway in the third period when John McCormick hit from underneath on an assist from Jim Brannon to make it 48-47. LaSalle then led until Orr's fielder for Valley with 1:30 to play.

Suder, whose long arching jump shots found the range with amazing consistency in the first half, scored 28 of his 41 tallies in the first two periods. He hit only five of 15 floor attempts after intermission and his teammates' shooting seemed to suffer similarly. Suder's total came on 17 field goals in 32 tries and a 7-10 effort at the free throw line.

Brannon paced the Explorers with 17 tallies, McCormick canned a dozen, and Bobby Neubeiser and Dick Delaney collected 11 each. The latter fouled out with 4:55 to go and Neubeiser was hurt and had to leave the game with 3:30 on the clock.

WHAT WERE FOOTBALL SHINGUARDS?

By BOB SUDYK

IN THE EARLY 1900s pro football players wore canvas leggings from the ankles to the knees, re-enforced in front by willow sticks. Shinguards gradually disappeared but are returning today in the form of foam rubber padding placed over the shin bone area.

Campers Take Overtime Tilt At Piedmont

Vandenberg Taps In Deciding Basket In 56 To 53 Thriller

Allegany High School's Campers extended their two-year winning streak to 15 games and cracked Piedmont High School's 12-game home floor victory string by defeating the Lions in an overtime thriller last night by the score of 56-53.

Jim Shaver meshed two free throws with eight seconds remaining in the final period to tie the score at 50-50 and sent the game into an extra three-minute period.

After Ray Stevenson's basket put Piedmont two points behind in the overtime session at 54-52 Steve Vandenberg tapped in the goal that give the Campers a four-point advantage and the ball game. Larry Patterson's foul was the final point of the contest.

Piedmont led at the end of the first quarter, 15-12, and team score was knotted at 26-all at intermission. At one point in the third period Piedmont enjoyed a 6-point lead but this was shaved to 43-42 as the quints went into action in the final quarter.

Stevenson played an outstanding defensive game and limited Vandenberg to seven goals. Steve, however, led Allegany scorers with 16 points and Jim Arrowwood was the runner-up with 13 tallies. Patterson was the game's top point-maker with a total of 19, including eight baskets. Jim Shaver contributed 11 points.

Paul Light of Allegany and Wanzel Jessie of Piedmont fouled out in the fourth quarter.

The win gave the Campers a 3-0 mark for the season. The Lions are 3-2.

Indians' Late Rally Brings 79-74 Win

Ralph Wilson hit for 33 points and Bobby Robertson collected 19 to lead Mt. Savage High School's Indians to a 79-74 victory over the Hyndman High School Hornets last night at Mt. Savage.

Wilson scored 14 field goals and 5-7 at the charity stripe as Coach John Thomas' team made its season record 3-0. Robertson garnered six goals and converted 7 of 9 free throws.

Each team scored 29 goals but the Indians booped 21 of 30 foul shots to Hyndman's 16 out of 18.

With the score knotted at 74-74 three minutes remaining, Mt. Savage put the game on ice when Larry Birmingham meshed a foul shot, Robertson slammed in a 20-footer and Birmingham also connected for a fielder.

The game was a close one all the way. Hyndman held a 22-18 lead at the quarter and trailed at halftime, 41-38, and also at the close of the third stanza, 60-59.

Steve Stouffer headed the Hyndman scoring with 21 points, Lester Wise had 16 and Don Logue 15.

Explorers Beat Valley In Last Minute, 75-73

Larry Suder Gets 41 Points For Losing Knights

By TED TROXELL

Clutch performances by substitutes Toby Scaletta and Tom Stitcher sparked LaSalle to a 75-73 victory over Valley last night in a thriller at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

The pair of "S-Men" combined for the Explorers' last seven points to give LaSalle its second win in four starts and spoil a brilliant individual performance by the Knights' Larry Suder, who tossed in 41 points.

Scaletta, hustling 5-foot-6 guard, drove for a layup with 1:20 remaining to regain the lead for LaSalle at 70-69 after Billy Orr's jumper had given the visitors a brief advantage.

Stitcher drove for another two points 12 seconds later, then tossed in a LaSalle misfire after Scaletta converted one of two free throw attempts. That gave the Irish a 75-69 edge, but Suder made a pair of fouls and a field goal before the rugged battle ended.

The Black Knights, who suffered their third loss in four games, held the lead until midway in the third period when John McCormick hit from underneath on an assist from Jim Brannon to make it 48-47. LaSalle then led until Orr's fielder for Valley with 1:30 to play.

Suder, whose long arching jump shots found the range with amazing consistency in the first half, scored 28 of his 41 tallies in the first two periods. He hit only five of 15 floor attempts after intermission and his teammates' shooting seemed to suffer similarly. Suder's total came on 17 field goals in 32 tries and a 7-10 effort at the free throw line.

Brannon paced the Explorers with 17 tallies, McCormick canned a dozen, and Bobby Neubeiser and Dick Delaney collected 11 each. The latter fouled out with 4:55 to go and Neubeiser was hurt and had to leave the game with 3:30 on the clock.

WHAT WERE FOOTBALL SHINGUARDS?

By BOB SUDYK

IN THE EARLY 1900s pro football players wore canvas leggings from the ankles to the knees, re-enforced in front by willow sticks. Shinguards gradually disappeared but are returning today in the form of foam rubber padding placed over the shin bone area.

Tornado Stops Beall, Bulldogs Down Southern

Paw Paw Whips Romney In First PVC Appearance

Keyser High's Golden Tornado, sparked by freshman John Fox, turned on the steam in the second half last night to hand Beall its first defeat, 68-48, in the Potomac Valley Conference basketball headliner at Keyser.

Three other PVC quints remained among the ranks of the unbeaten, as Bruce downed Southern 78-68 at Oakland, Paw Paw whipped Romney 64-44 on the losers' floor, and Franklin won at Petersburg, 55-46.

In other conference activity, Fort Ashby routed Capon Bridge 92-27 at the latter place, Moorefield scored a 67-55 home court decision over Circleville, and Wardensville defeated West Virginia School for the Deaf, 48-32, at Romney.

Three Share Lead

Keyser, Bruce and Franklin are tied for the PVC lead with 3-0 records. Paw Paw, 4-0 overall, was making its first conference appearance of the season.

Fox came off the bench with 3:50 left in the first period, which ended with the Tornado holding a scant 15-14 edge. The freshman bomber banged in eight field goals and had a perfect 7-7 night at the free throw line for 23 points.

Woody Kesecker added 14 tallies to the Tornado cause, Taylor had 13 and Tom Condron collected 11. Big John Smouse paced the Mountaineers (3-1) with 17.

Gary Smith hit for 29 points in the Bruce Bulldogs' fourth straight conquest of the young season. Bruce trailed by five (39-34) at intermission, but pulled to within two at the three-quarter post and outscored the home club 18-10 in the final session.

Pat Garrett collected 25 points for the Highlanders, who lost four players via the personal foul route.

Paw Paw's defending co-champions led all the way in their 1963-64 conference debut. Four Pirates were in double figures, led by Larry Harding with 19 markers. Joe Breinig and Jerry Mezzatesta shared 21 for the Pioneers.

Panthers Win Fifth

Held to 19 points in the first two periods, Franklin's Panthers nearly doubled that effort with 36 in the second half to up their overall log to 5-0. Ed Wimer paced the Panthers with 16, while Chuck Fisher canned 17 and Roy Harman had 16 for the Vikings.

Fort Ashby bombed the nets for 39 field goals and had ten cagers in the scoring column. Donnie Wagoner was the Golden Eagles' top gunner with 17, and John Emmart led winless Capon Bridge with ten.

Hitting for 17 consecutive points in the third period, Moorefield overacame a 39-31 halftime deficit and went on to defeat the Indians. Gary Barr headed the Yellowjackets with 21 points, but Circleville's Ron Williams took game honors with 25.

Wardensville chalked up its second PVC victory, getting an 18-point performance from John Hawse, Ernest Evans scored 14 for the Lions.

Ara Parseghian Signs As Coach At Notre Dame

Alex Agase Gets Northwestern Job

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ara Parseghian ironed out his differences with Notre Dame Tuesday and accepted the Irish football coaching post. Alex Agase, who has been line coach at Northwestern under Parseghian, immediately was named head coach of the Wildcats.

In rapid fire order, after more than 24 hours of uncertainty, Notre Dame and Northwestern officials announced the switch that sends Parseghian to South Bend to revive the gridiron fortunes of the Fighting Irish and installs the veteran assistant Agase at Dyche Stadium in Evanston.

The Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, announced that Parseghian — who Monday refused to sign a Notre Dame coaching contract after he was announced Saturday as new Irish coach—had decided to accept the post.

"The slight difficulty which arose on Monday morning has been resolved," Father Joyce said.

Replaces Devore

Parseghian replaces Hugh Devore, who was "interim" coach of the Irish for the past season.

Within a half hour after Father Joyce's announcement, Northwestern Athletic Director Stu Holcomb told a news conference that Agase — Wildcat line coach for eight years — would replace Parseghian.

Holcomb said Agase signed a three-year contract "when we learned definitely Ara was going to Notre Dame."

Agase said Parseghian was "taking some" of the Northwestern assistant coaches to Notre Dame with him. But the new Wildcat coach said he did not know how many, nor did he know how many of te Northwestern assistants would remain on the Wildcat staff.

"I'm going to get together with Ara tonight and talk about it," Agase said.

Four Year Contract

Parseghian's contract at Notre Dame is for four years. He quit with one year remaining on his contract at Northwestern. He turored the Wildcats for eight years, posting a 36-35-1 mark and beating the Irish for four straight years from 1959 through 1962.

Texas, Navy Rated Even; Mississippi, Illinois Favorites

NEW YOR K(UPI) — Texas and Navy, the nation's top-ranked football teams, were rated even Tuesday for their Cotton Bowl clash Jan. 1.

The oddsmakers also saw the Orange Bowl battle between Auburn and Nebraska as a close battle with the Auburn's Tigers 1½ point favorites.

Illinois was favored by 4½ over Washington in the Rose Bowl battle and Mississippi was a 6½ point favorite to defeat Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

North Carolina was installed as a 1½ point favorite over Air Force in the Gator Bowl.

In the other bowl games, Baylor was favored by two points over Louisiana State in the Bluebonnet Bowl and Mississippi State was made a 6½ point favorite to defeat North Carolina State in the Liberty Bowl.

The Bluebonnet and Liberty Bowl games will be played Saturday. The Gator Bowl will be played Dec. 28.

Mountaineers Play William And Mary

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (UPI) —West Virginia University, long the nearly-undisputed kingpin of the Southern Conference, will be battling to stay in contention in the SC race when it entertains undefeated William and Mary here Wednesday.

The Mountaineers are 3-1 in conference play but their victories were over three of the last four teams in the standings —Richmond, Furman and The Citadel. And their biggest spread over any of those teams was eight points.

In their last conference outing West Virginia lost to Virginia Military Institute at Charleston last Friday, 68-64, and dropped a 74-72 decision at Maryland the next night.

Penn State's Liske Signs With Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pete Liske, star quarterback who set six Penn State football records during his three varsity seasons, signed Tuesday to play for the New York Jets of the American League.

Liske completed 87 out of 161 passes during the past season for a percentage of 54, 1,117 yards and 10 touchdowns. During three seasons at Penn State, he set a university total offense record of 2,489 yards while completing 54.9 per cent of his passes for a total of 24 touchdowns.

Coast Players Dominate AFL All-Star Team

San Diego, Oakland Get 11 Of 22 Places

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — San Diego and Oakland hogged half of the 22 jobs on the 1963 All-Star team of the American Football League selected Tuesday for The Associated Press by a panel of 24 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city.

Al Davis' surprising Oakland Raiders placed three men on the offensive unit and three others on the defensive team. San Diego's powerful Chargers placed four on offense and one on defense.

Houston and Buffalo each had three men on the first teams and Boston and Kansas City two each. New York placed one.

Art Powell, a fleet split end who formerly played with the old New York Titans; center Jim Otto and running back Clem Daniels were Oakland's representatives on offense. The Raiders' defensive unit was represented by middle linebacker Archie Matsos, acquired from Buffalo in a trade; corner back Fred Williamson and safety Tommy Morrow.

Sid Gillman's high-scoring Chargers had the only unanimous choice in Lance Alworth, the fleet flanker back from Arkansas who received all of the 24 votes. Tobin Rote, 35-year-old quarterback, and fullback Keith Lincoln, gave the Chargers three of the four backfield jobs. Tackle Ron Mix also made the offensive club. San Diego's lone representative on the first team was Earl Faison, the 6-foot-5 pass-rushing end from Indiana.

In addition to the four San Diego and three Oakland men on the offensive team, others were right end Fred Arbamas of Kansas City, tackle Stew Barber and guard Bill Shaw of Buffalo and guard Bob Talamini of Houston.

Joining the three Oakland men and Faison on defense were corner back Tony Banfield and safety Fred Glick of Houston, end Larry Eisenhauer and tackle Houston Antwine of Boston, linebackers E. J. Holub of Kansas City and Larry Grantham of New York and tackle Tom Sestak of Buffalo.

There were only eight repeaters from the 22-man squad of last year—Snaw, Mix and Otto on offense and Eisenhauer, Holub, Grantham, Williamson and Banfield on defense.

BARBOURSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI)—Head football coach J. C. (Chasey) Wilson of Barboursville High School has submitted his resignation to the Cabell County Board of Education.

Devaney Stays At Nebraska

Won't Take Job As Miami Coach

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) —Bob Devaney will remain at Nebraska as head football coach, the University of Nebraska announced Tuesday.

The announcement laid to rest persistent rumors of the past two weeks that Devaney, who has compiled an 18-3 record at Nebraska, would accept an offer at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla.

The rumors started shortly after Devaney went to Miami to make arrangements for the Cornhusker team which will meet Auburn in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

Devaney returned to Miami for further interviews last weekend but all along has insisted that a firm job offer was never made.

There were reports that Miami and others interested in the school had come up with an offer which would have meant $50,000 annually for Devaney, but Devaney laughingly discounted such reports.

Gary Peters' ERA Is Best

Leads AL With 2.33, Ford's 24 Wins Tops

BOSTON (AP)—Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, the first rookie to capture the American League earned run championship in 15 years, and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, a 24-game winner, divided most of the circuit's important pitching honors in 1963 according to final official averages released by the AL Service Bureau.

Peters finished with an earned run mark of 2.33, edging Juan Pizarro, another Chicago left-hander, who wound up at 2.39. The last first year player to win an American League ERA crown was Cleveland's Gene Bearden in 1948.

Ford, in addition to winning the most games, had the highest won-lost percentage, .774 on 24-7. The stocky southpaw also pitched the most innings, 269. Peters' won-lost mark was 19-8.

Camilo Pascual was third in the earned run competition with 2.47. He was followed by two young Yankee pitchers, Jim Bouton 2.53 and Al Downing 2.56. Lee Stange of Minnesota, with 2.62, Ford 2.74 and Baltimore's Steve Barber 2.75 were the only others to finish under 3.00.

Bill Monbouquette of Boston, a 20-game winner, allowed the most hits 258, and earned runs, 113.

Ara Parseghian Signs As Coach At Notre Dame

Alex Agase Gets Northwestern Job

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ara Parseghian ironed out his differences with Notre Dame Tuesday and accepted the Irish football coaching post. Alex Agase, who has been line coach at Northwestern under Parseghian, immediately was named head coach of the Wildcats.

In rapid fire order, after more than 24 hours of uncertainty, Notre Dame and Northwestern officials announced the switch that sends Parseghian to South Bend to revive the gridiron fortunes of the Fighting Irish and installs the veteran assistant Agase at Dyche Stadium in Evanston.

The Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, announced that Parseghian — who Monday refused to sign a Notre Dame coaching contract after he was announced Saturday as new Irish coach—had decided to accept the post.

"The slight difficulty which arose on Monday morning has been resolved," Father Joyce said.

Replaces Devore

Parseghian replaces Hugh Devore, who was "interim" coach of the Irish for the past season.

Within a half hour after Father Joyce's announcement, Northwestern Athletic Director Stu Holcomb told a news conference that Agase — Wildcat line coach for eight years — would replace Parseghian.

Holcomb said Agase signed a three-year contract "when we learned definitely Ara was going to Notre Dame."

Agase said Parseghian was "taking some" of the Northwestern assistant coaches to Notre Dame with him. But the new Wildcat coach said he did not know how many, nor did he know how many of te Northwestern assistants would remain on the Wildcat staff.

"I'm going to get together with Ara tonight and talk about it," Agase said.

Four Year Contract

Parseghian's contract at Notre Dame is for four years. He quit with one year remaining on his contract at Northwestern. He turored the Wildcats for eight years, posting a 36-35-1 mark and beating the Irish for four straight years from 1959 through 1962.

Texas, Navy Rated Even; Mississippi, Illinois Favorites

NEW YOR K(UPI) — Texas and Navy, the nation's top-ranked football teams, were rated even Tuesday for their Cotton Bowl clash Jan. 1.

The oddsmakers also saw the Orange Bowl battle between Auburn and Nebraska as a close battle with the Auburn's Tigers 1½ point favorites.

Illinois was favored by 4½ over Washington in the Rose Bowl battle and Mississippi was a 6½ point favorite to defeat Alabama in the Sugar Bowl. North Carolina was installed as a 1½ point favorite over Air Force in the Gator Bowl.

In the other bowl games, Baylor was favored by two points over Louisiana State in the Bluebonnet Bowl and Mississippi State was made a 6½ point favorite to defeat North Carolina State in the Liberty Bowl.

The Bluebonnet and Liberty Bowl games will be played Saturday. The Gator Bowl will be played Dec. 28.

Mountaineers Play William And Mary

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (UPI) —West Virginia University, long the nearly-undisputed kingpin of the Southern Conference, will be battling to stay in contention in the SC race when it entertains undefeated William and Mary here Wednesday.

The Mountaineers are 3-1 in conference play but their victories were over three of the last four teams in the standings —Richmond, Furman and The Citadel. And their biggest spread over any of those teams was eight points.

In their last conference outing West Virginia lost to Virginia Military Institute at Charleston last Friday, 68-64, and dropped a 74-72 decision at Maryland the next night.

Penn State's Liske Signs With Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pete Liske, star quarterback who set six Penn State football records during his three varsity seasons, signed Tuesday to play for the New York Jets of the American League.

Liske completed 87 out of 161 passes during the past season for a percentage of 54, 1,117 yards and 10 touchdowns. During three seasons at Penn State, he set a university total offense record of 2,489 yards while completing 54.9 per cent of his passes for a total of 24 touchdowns.

Coast Players Dominate AFL All-Star Team

San Diego, Oakland Get 11 Of 22 Places

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — San Diego and Oakland hogged half of the 22 jobs on the 1963 All-Star team of the American Football League selected Tuesday for The Associated Press by a panel of 24 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city.

Al Davis' surprising Oakland Raiders placed three men on the offensive unit and three others on the defensive team. San Diego's powerful Chargers placed four on offense and one on defense.

Houston and Buffalo each had three men on the first teams and Boston and Kansas City two each. New York placed one.

Art Powell, a fleet split end who formerly played with the old New York Titans; center Jim Otto and running back Clem Daniels were Oakland's representatives on offense. The Raiders' defensive unit was represented by middle linebacker Archie Matsos, acquired from Buffalo in a trade; corner back Fred Williamson and safety Tommy Morrow.

Sid Gillman's high-scoring Chargers had the only unanimous choice in Lance Alworth, the fleet flanker back from Arkansas who received all of the 24 votes. Tobin Rote, 35-year-old quarterback, and fullback Keith Lincoln, gave the Chargers three of the four backfield jobs. Tackle Ron Mix also made the offensive club. San Diego's lone representative on the first team was Earl Faison, the 6-foot-5 pass-rushing end from Indiana.

In addition to the four San Diego and three Oakland men on the offensive team, others were right end Fred Arbamas of Kansas City, tackle Stew Barber and guard Bill Shaw of Buffalo and guard Bob Talamini of Houston.

Joining the three Oakland men and Faison on defense were corner back Tony Banfield and safety Fred Glick of Houston, end Larry Eisenhauer and tackle Houston Antwine of Boston, linebackers E. J. Holub of Kansas City and Larry Grantham of New York and tackle Tom Sestak of Buffalo.

There were only eight repeaters from the 22-man squad of last year—Snaw, Mix and Otto on offense and Eisenhauer, Holub, Grantham, Williamson and Banfield on defense.

Coach Resigns

BARBOURSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI)—Head football coach J. C. (Chasey) Wilson of Barboursville High School has submitted his resignation to the Cabell County Board of Education.

He said he was resigning because he "was not able to produce a winning team at Barboursville High School, which the people and the community are accustomed to." During his three years as head football coach, Wilson had a record of 7 wins, 22 loses and 1 tie.

Devaney Stays At Nebraska

Won't Take Job As Miami Coach

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) —Bob Devaney will remain at Nebraska as head football coach, the University of Nebraska announced Tuesday.

The announcement laid to rest persistent rumors of the past two weeks that Devaney, who has compiled an 18-3 record at Nebraska, would accept an offer at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla.

The rumors started shortly after Devaney went to Miami to make arrangements for the Cornhusker team which will meet Auburn in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

Devaney returned to Miami for further interviews last weekend but all along has insisted that a firm job offer was never made.

There were reports that Miami and others interested in the school had come up with an offer which would have meant $50,000 annually for Devaney, but Devaney laughingly discounted such reports.

Gary Peters' ERA Is Best

Leads AL With 2.33, Ford's 24 Wins Tops

BOSTON (AP)—Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, the first rookie to capture the American League earned run championship in 15 years, and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, a 24-game winner, divided most of the circuit's important pitching honors in 1963 according to final official averages released by the AL Service Bureau.

Peters finished with an earned run mark of 2.33, edging Juan Pizarro, another Chicago left-hander, who wound up at 2.39. The last first year player to win an American League ERA crown was Cleveland's Gene Bearden in 1948.

Ford, in addition to winning the most games, had the highest won-lost percentage, .774 on 24-7. The stocky southpaw also pitched the most innings, 269. Peters' won-lost mark was 19-8.

Camilo Pascual was third in the earned run competition with 2.47. He was followed by two young Yankee pitchers, Jim Bouton 2.53 and Al Downing 2.56. Lee Stange of Minnesota, with 2.62, Ford 2.74 and Baltimore's Steve Barber 2.75 were the only others to finish under 3.00.

Bill Monbouquette of Boston, a 20-game winner, allowed the most hits 258, and earned runs, 113.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Lon "Happy" Pennel, who passed away one year ago today, December 18, 1962.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for all
And died beloved by all
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your empty place
Sadly missed by
Wife & Family

In loving memory of our dear father, Isaac C. Spiker who passed away Dec. 18th 1960.
If we had all the world to give
We'd give it yes and more
To hear his voice and see his smile
And greet him at the door
But all we can do dear father
Is go and tend your grave
And leave behind tokens of love
To the best father God ever made
We like to think when life is done
Wherever heaven may be
That he'll be standing at the door
up there to welcome us.
Sadly missed by
Wife and daughters
Pat, Sally, and Phyllis

In memory of our beloved son and brother, Galen G. Howdyshell who passed away 6 years ago Dec. 18, 1957.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought his death so near,
Our lips cannot tell how much we miss him.
Our heart know not what to say,
And only God knows our feelings,
Which we hide 'neath a smile each day.
Sadly missed by
Father, Mother, Sister, Brothers

In Memoriam

Inloving memory of Lon "Happy" Pennel, who passed away one year ago today, December 18, 1962.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for all
And died beloved by all
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your empty place
Sadly missed by
Wife & Family

In loving memory of our dear father, Isaac C. Spiker who passed away Dec. 18th 1960.
If we had all the world to give
We'd give it yes and more
To hear his voice and see his smile
And greet him at the door
But all we can do dear father
Is go and tend your grave
And leave behind tokens of love
To the best father God ever made
We like to think when life is done
Wherever heaven may be
That he'll be standing at the door
up there to welcome us.
Sadly missed by
Wife and daughters
Pat, Sally, and Phyllis

In memory of our beloved son and brother, Galen G. Howdyshell who passed away 6 years ago Dec. 18, 1957.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought his death so near,
Our lips cannot tell how much we miss him.
Our heart know not what to say,
And only God knows our feelings,
Which we hide 'neath a smile each day.
Sadly missed by
Father, Mother, Sister, Brothers

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND
NELLIE M. ROBERTS, 839 Columbia Avenue, Cumberland, Maryland, Complainant vs. EDWARD J. ROBERTS, Address unknown, Defendant.
NO. 27155 EQUITY
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 9th day of December, 1963, a bill of complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, by the complainant against the defendant, whose last known address was Mt. Storm, West Virginia, but whose present address is unknown. The petition alleges in substance that the parties were married at Cumberland, Maryland, on July 13, 1963; that prior to and at the time of the marriage defendant did not intend to perform his marital obligations and did not inform complainant thereof but on the contrary fraudulently induced complainant to enter into the marriage knowing that he would not permit the marriage to be consummated; that the alleged marriage has never been consummated because of defendant's refusal; that complainant has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than two years prior to the bringing of this suit except for a period of about three weeks when she resided with the defendant at Mt. Storm, West Virginia; that defendant has left Mt. Storm, West Virginia, and his present whereabouts are unknown although complainant has made every reasonable effort to learn where he is now residing; that complainant believes defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and does not reside therein.

The relief prayed in the bill of complaint is substantially as follows: that the marriage between the parties may be annulled, declared void and set aside; and that complainant may have such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require.

WHEREUPON, it is ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, this 9th day of December, 1963, that complainant cause a copy of this order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week in each of four successive weeks before the 10th day of January, 1964, giving notice to the said non-resident defendant of the object and substance of the bill of complaint and warning him to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 11th day of February, 1964, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

The Detroit Pistons met the New York Knicks in the second game of the Madison Square Garden twin bill.

Terry Dischinger led the Bullets to a 94-91 lead early in the fourth period. Then Havlicek and Ramsey led the Celtics on a spree in which they outscored the Bullets 18-4.

Havlicek got 16 of his 43 points in the fourth quarter. Ramsey clicked for 11 of his 19 points within a four-minute period before fouling out.

Walt Bellamy, with 45 points, and Dischinger, with 30, gave the Celtics a battle until the spurt.

Baltimore coach Bob Leonard wasn't around to see the finish. He was thrown out of the game in the third period by referee Earl Strom after receiving his second technical foul.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

ITEMS OF SPORTS INFO picked up here and there and strung along the typewriter . . . Bob Scheffing, the deposed Tiger manager who will broadcast the Bengal games next year, is practicing now doing the play-by-play during wintertime games at Scottsdale, Ariz. . . . Gag going the rounds is that Nellie Fox, the White Sox infield ace recently traded to Houston of the N. L., was hunting with a Colt .45 when he was being traded . . . Of all things, Danny Litwhiler, former major league outfielder who now is head baseball coach at Michigan State, has invented an unbreakable mirror for use of pitchers to throw at while studying their form . . . One of the recipients of the Earl Blaik scholarship fund at the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame dinner in New York was a young man born in Lithuania who spent six of his first 10 years in a displaced persons' camp . . . He was Algis A. Grigaliunas, Pittsburgh U. end. . . . The Hula Bowl game will be played in Honolulu January 4 . . . Of the 28 men selected for the first Los Angeles Angels' squad just three years ago, seven still are on the roster. . . . Johnny Kerr of the Philadelphia club in the NBA hasn't missed a game since joining the team in 1954 . . . Walt Hazzard, the U.C.L.A. All-American guard, needs 388 points this year to break the all-time Bruin scoring mark . . . Walt compiled 370 points as a soph and 473 last season as a junior . . . Highest-scoring NFL team in history was the L. A. Rams of 1950, who totaled 466 points . . . The Giants this season have gone over 400 to become only the third team in NFL history to reach that mark . . . Green Bay was the other one, with 415 points last year . . . One bowling phrase to classify the 4-6-7-10 split is "Big Ears" . . . Y. A. Tittle, the passing man of the Giants, was regarded as washed up by the San Francisco 49ers three years ago. . . . Today he is making $35,000 a year as the Giants' big ace!

• • •

VEDIE HIMSL, who was one of the Cubs' coaching managers, now is the manager at Salt Lake City of the PCL . . . Billy Conn, the ex-Pittsburgh heavyweight, now is a greeter at a Las Vegas hotel casino . . . The 1964 Winter Olympic Games, at Innsbruck, Austria, will be contested over an area 10 times the size of the 1960 Games at Squaw Valley, Calif. . . . Twenty years ago Whirlaway was the leading money winner on the turf with earnings of $561,161 . . . Today Whirly ranks 37th on the list . . . Overlooked in the battle for the NFL divisional crowns was the late season rampage of the Baltimore Colts, led by Johnny Unitas, who completed 92 out of 140 throws in five games for 1,560 yards and 12 TDs . . . Long service . . . Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan's former All-American and former head football and basketball coach, is now in his 40th year in Wolverine Athletics . . . Hector Cardenas, Indians' prospect who is hitting .340 in the Venezuela Occidental League, is a younger brother of the Cincy shortstop, Leo Cardenas . . . Gabe Paul, the Indians' prexy and general manager, has spent 42 of his 54 years in baseball . . . Gabe started as a batboy for the Rochester club back in 1921 . . . Speaking of the Indians, the club traveled 26,179 miles last season, not including any spring training trips . . . Los Angeles Angels, in their three years in the league, have played more extra-inning games, 52, than any other club . . . A bill to permit Aqueduct race track in New York to operate as a downstate branch of Saratoga when the horses race there in August is being readied for the N. Y. legislature . . . The horses would run at Saratoga, but pari-mutuel windows, TV of the races and wire-to-wire broadcasts would be available at Aqueduct.

This is to give notice that on the 9th day of December, 1963, a bill of complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, by the complainant against the defendant, whose last known address was Mt. Storm, West Virginia, but whose present address is unknown. The petition alleges in substance that the parties were married at Cumberland, Maryland, on July 13, 1963; that prior to and at the time of the marriage defendant did not intend to perform his marital obligations and did not inform complainant thereof but on the contrary fraudulently induced complainant to enter into the marriage knowing that he would not permit the marriage to be consummated; that the alleged marriage has never been consummated because of defendant's refusal; that complainant has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than two years prior to the bringing of this suit except for a period of about three weeks when she resided with the defendant at Mt. Storm, West Virginia; that defendant has left Mt. Storm, West Virginia, and his present whereabouts are unknown although complainant has made every reasonable effort to learn where he is now residing; that complainant believes defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and does not reside therein.

The relief prayed in the bill of complaint is substantially as follows: that the marriage between the parties may be annulled, declared void and set aside; and that complainant may have such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require.

WHEREUPON, it is ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, this 9th day of December, 1963, that complainant cause a copy of this order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week in each of four successive weeks before the 10th day of January, 1964, giving notice to the said non-resident defendant of the object and substance of the bill of complaint and warning him to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 11th day of February, 1964, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Fire In Clothes Press Damages Apartment Here

Workers Hampered By Dense Smoke

A two-alarm blaze discovered early yesterday afternoon in an apartment at 111 Valley Street caused considerable damage to the interior of the unit.

Central Fire Company was called to the fire in the apartment of Louise Michaels at 12:55 p. m. and called for assistance from West Side Fire Company five minutes later.

Firemen said the fire started in a clothes cupboard, probably as a result of a short circuit, in the second floor of the dwelling.

The fire damaged all of the clothing and most of the furniture in the apartment and blistered paint in addition to smoke and some water damage.

Firemen said the smoke was so dense when they arrived that they had to don masks to get inside the apartment, and even then could not find the source of the fire.

Firemen said they had to break two windows in the apartment to let the worst of the smoke escape and to relieve the pressure of gases and smoke which was building up.

But the source of the blaze was found only after firemen climbed to the flat roof and removed a scuttle directly above the cupboard.

Once the source of the fire was found, it took firemen only a few minutes to put out the blaze.

Firemen said Miss Michaels was at work when the fire broke out.

City police and firemen cooperated yesterday afternoon when a car parked near the Dingle Circle caught fire.

The fire in the car owned by the Auto Used Car Mart, Triple Lakes, was discovered at 4 p. m. by cruiser Officer Robert G. Hershberger. West Side Firemen arrived after a box alarm was turned in and checked to make sure the blaze was out.

Firemen said the fire ate its way under the dashboard before it was discovered.

West Side firemen were recalled to the car half an hour later after steam was seen coming from the vehicle. There was no fire the second time, firemen said, but inflammable materials were removed as a precaution.

Filter Lateral Pipes Are Found In Good Shape

A U. S. Public Health engineer yesterday inspected one or the 12 original filters at the Lake Gordon filtration plant and reported that lateral pipes were in satisfactory condition.

The comment was made by Frederick K. Pyne during an inspection tour of the facility with City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and Gaylord Brooks, Health Department sanitarian.

The condition of the pipes was one of the points cited in a disputed USPS report unveiled several months ago.

Workers at the filter plant recently took one of the filters out of service and removed some 44 tons of anthracite coal, in graduated sizes, which is used to filter city water.

The laterals—there are 51 of them in each filter unit, are 12-foot long perforated pipes located at the bottom of the filter unit and are used to collect the water which has trickled through the filtering materials. Water from the laterals goes to manifolds and then to the clear well.

When the 12 old filters were rehabilitated eight years ago, it was found that most of the wrought iron lateral pipes installed in 1911 were in excellent condition, and it was decided to use the best of them again.

This was done and all rust and scale was cleaned off and the pipes were treated with a rust inhibitor before they were placed back into service.

Mr. Nuzum said Mr. Pyne examined the pipes, including the ¼ inch holes drilled in the bottom of the pipe at three-inch intervals, and reported it was satisfactory.

The filter was inspected after staffers reported it did not appear to be filtering well, and it was surmized the lateral pipes were to blame.

W.Va. Centennial Tomato Seeds Are Now Available

Here's good news for gardeners who are thinking about spring planting.

The new Centennial tomato, "West Virginia '63" has been received with a great deal of enthusiasm and interest said Dr. A. H. VanLandingham, director of the West Virginia University Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new tomato, developed after 13 years of research by the Experiment Station staff, is designed primarily for the home gardener and is resistant to late blight, Fusarium wilt and Verticillium wilt.

Dr. VanLandingham noted that many letters have been received from West Virginians praising the tomato and requesting additional seeds. "Since commercial seed houses will not have seed available before 1965," he said, "the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station is making the "W. Va. '63" tomato seeds available in two different quantities."

For commercial growers who sell plants at popular prices to the public, a one-fourth ounce packet is available. This packet contains about 2,500 seeds. A service charge of $1 for packaging, handling and mailing will be made for the large packet for commercial growers.

Home gardeners may obtain a "home garden" packet which contains about 50 seeds. The charge for the smaller packet will be 25 cents.

Dr. VanLandingham pointed out that since the supply is limited, requests will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Payment of the service charge must accompany the request for seeds. In the event that more requests are submitted than can be filled, the service charge will be returned to the sender, he added.

All requests should be sent to Dr. A. H. VanLandingham, Director of the WVU Agricultural Experiment Station, Agricultural Sciences Building, West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va. 26506.

Fire In Clothes Press Damages Apartment Here

Workers Hampered By Dense Smoke

A two-alarm blaze discovered early yesterday afternoon in an apartment at 111 Valley Street caused considerable damage to the interior of the unit.

Central Fire Company was called to the fire in the apartment of Louise Michaels at 12:55 p. m. and called for assistance from West Side Fire Company five minutes later.

Firemen said the fire started in a clothes cupboard, probably as a result of a short circuit, in the second floor of the dwelling.

The fire damaged all of the clothing and most of the furniture in the apartment and blistered paint in addition to smoke and some water damage.

Firemen said the smoke was so dense when they arrived that they had to don masks to get inside the apartment, and even then could not find the source of the fire.

Firemen said they had to break two windows in the apartment to let the worst of the smoke escape and to relieve the pressure of gases and smoke which was building up.

But the source of the blaze was found only after firemen climbed to the flat roof and removed a scuttle directly above the cupboard.

Once the source of the fire was found, it took firemen only a few minutes to put out the blaze.

Firemen said Miss Michaels was at work when the fire broke out.

City police and firemen cooperated yesterday afternoon when a car parked near the Dingle Circle caught fire.

The fire in the car owned by the Auto Used Car Mart, Triple Lakes, was discovered at 4 p. m. by cruiser Officer Robert G. Hershberger. West Side Firemen arrived after a box alarm was turned in and checked to make sure the blaze was out.

Firemen said the fire ate its way under the dashboard before it was discovered.

West Side firemen were recalled to the car half an hour later after steam was seen coming from the vehicle. There was no fire the second time, firemen said, but inflammable materials were removed as a precaution.
